Noted Woman Aviator and Manager of Meet Killed in Boston Accident.

Miss Harriet Quimby First of Sex to Win Air License and to Fly Across English Channel, and W. A. P. Willard Are Victims of Double Tragedy in a Dramatic Setting After Wonderful Flight.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, July 1.—Miss Harriet Quimby of New York, the first woman to win an aviator's license in America, and the first woman to cross the English Channel in an aeroplane, was instantly killed when her passenger, W. A. P. Willard, manager of the Boston aviation meet, at Atlantic, tonight, when her Blériot monoplane fell into the sea from a height of a thousand feet.

The accident happened when Miss Quimby and Willard were returning from a trip over Boston Harbor to Boston Light, a distance of twenty miles in all. The flight was made in twenty minutes. The Blériot, one of the latest models of military monoplane, circled the aviation field and soared out off over the Savin Hill Yacht Club, just outside the aviation grounds.

Heading back into the eight-mile gusty wind, Miss Quimby started to veer. The angle was too sharp and one of the guests caught the tail of the monoplane, throwing the machine up in the air. For an instant it poised there. Then, sharply outland against the setting sun, Willard was thrown clear of the chassis, followed almost immediately by Miss Quimby. Hurling over and over, the two figures shot downward, striking the water twenty feet from shore. They splashed out of sight a second before the monoplane plunged down fifteen feet away.

It was low tide and the water was only five feet deep. Men from the yacht club, in motor boats, were on the spot quickly and leaping overboard dragged the bodies out of the mud into which they had sunk deeply. Death probably was instantaneous.

BODIES BADLY CRUSHED.

Both bodies were badly crushed. Several of Miss Quimby's bones were broken and there were many large bruises. Willard, who weighed 190 pounds, hit the water face first and over one eye there was a gash from which the blood was flowing. He, too, sustained several fractures and bruises. The clothing of both flyers was torn and the bodies were so covered with mud that it was several minutes before the doctors and nurses could determine the full extent of the injuries.

The victims were brought ashore in motor boats and taken to the Quincy Hospital.

Flying high overhead at the time of the fall was Miss Blanche Stuart Scott, another aviator taking part in the meet which had entered upon its second day.

Countess is a Mother.

Daughter is Born in the Grand Household and a Little Sister Has Cause to Rejoice.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Wireless from Chicago to the Times.]

LONDON, July 1.—A daughter was born to the Countess of Granard (Beatrice Mills) tonight. This makes two daughters in the Granard household. Lady Maura Mary Forbes having been born in March, 1910.

Miss Mills was married to Bernard William Patrick Hastings Forbes, Earl of Granard, on January 15, 1909, at the New York home of her father, Ogden Mills. Special permission for the ceremony was obtained from the Archbishop Farley as the Earl is a Catholic and Miss Mills was a Protestant.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK.

Yosemite (Cal.) July 1.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The marbled trout and tributaries in Yosemite Valley were thrown open to fishermen today after a closed season of three years. The limit catch for the day was soon reached, even by novices. Fourth of July will be celebrated in the valley with Indian pony races and military exercises, the cavalry patrol taking part.

NAVY TO BREAK STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The navy will supply enlisted men to operate the ships of the Panama Railway between New York and Colon, to replace those who joined in the general strike called for this morning at New York. Regular service of these ships is essential for supplying food and other necessities for the canal workers as well as material for the canal itself.

TORPEDO FLOTILLA ARRIVES.

SANTA CRUZ, July 1.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The torpedo boat flotilla, consisting of the Whipple, Hull, Stewart, Perry and Preble, arrived late this afternoon for the purpose of taking part in the celebration on the Fourth. After a week's stay here the flotilla will proceed to San Diego for target practice.

TERRAZAS BUYS HIS RELEASE.

CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) July 1.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Luis Terrazas, Jr., the wealthiest man in Northern Mexico, finally obtained his release from active service at the rebel front at Bachimba today, returning here tonight after paying a ransom of $25,000 gold.

DEMOCRATS IN A STUPOR UNABLE TO NOMINATE.

Night Session Leaves Wilson at Highest Flow and Clark at Lowest Ebb.

Forty-second Ballot Finds the Party Hopelessly Divided on Nearly Everything Except the Disposition to Help the Republicans—Underwood Fluctuates Around the Hundred Mark and Harmon Still Has a Straw.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, July 1.—The deadlock in the Democratic National Convention over a Presidential nominee seemed more complicated than ever when adjournment was taken at 12:45 a.m., until noon today. Woodrow Wilson had made steady gains during Monday's balloting until he reached a high-water mark of 501½ votes on thirty-ninth ballot. He remained stationary on the fortieth ballot, and then began to lose ground. The last ballot was the forty-second when Gov. Wilson polled 494 votes.

CLARK'S LOW EBB.

Speaker Champ Clark reached the lowest ebb of his candidacy on the ballot where Wilson reached a crest. He went down to 412 votes at that time, but immediately began to pick up and had gone to 430 when adjournment was taken.

The Speaker came over to Baltimore during the thirty-ninth ballot, and on the thirty-ninth he had passed the 500 mark, with 1½ votes to spare. Clark in the same ballots lost 11 votes. On the fortieth call of the roll, Wilson's 501½ remained the same, and Clark gained a single vote, leaving him 413. Meanwhile the vote for Oscar W. Underwood fluctuated within 10 votes of the hundred mark. By the time the fortieth ballot had been concluded there was seemingly no hope of a nomination tonight.

IN A STUPOR.

The delegates sat in a sort of stupor. The roll call clerks entered the vote mechanically, often without waiting for the responses from the various states. At the close of the fortieth ballot, a tired Alabama delegate moved to adjourn, but when a roll call on the motion was demanded by the Wilson forces he withdrew it. Another attempt was made to adjourn after the forty-first ballot, and again it failed.

THE NIGHT SESSION OF THE CONVENTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, July 1.—A weary, bedraggled, peevish aggregation of delegates and alternates to the Democratic National Convention drifted into the convention hall tonight, with a long night session in prospect. They confronted the same monotonous grind of balloting that had continued from last Friday morning.

Almost a full week of controversy between rival factions had tried the patience and tempers of the delegates and the crowd which gathered tonight was an irritable and excitable one.

The tenacity of the situation had shown itself in a semi-riot on the floor during the afternoon when William Jennings Bryan found himself in the midst of half a score of fist fights. Police were wanted to exert extraordinary vigilance in the future. The slow, vacillating rise and fall of the vote in favor of candidates for the day had increased the steadily growing bitterness of the last week.

It was on this situation that many of the leaders based a hope of a final vote and a nomination before the night was over.

THE ARGUMENT.

They argued that the weary delegates, tried by a week of work, would break from the hard and fast lines they had been holding and throw enough votes to one of the candidates now before the convention. They pointed to today's physical clash between the Clark and Wilson forces as an evidence that the feeling between the two was no bitter that neither would allow enough votes to go to the other to nominate.

The Wilson forces, however, encouraged by their steady gain through the day, were optimistic. They asserted that in time they would get a majority of the convention and then the delegates, ready to do almost anything to end the struggle, would flock to the Wilson standard.

LEADERS MEET.

Another attempt to reach some sort of agreement among the leaders failed tonight. The so-called conservative were in conference. National Chairman Norman E. Black, Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall, George Harvey, Representative John J. Fitzgerald of New York, and Roger C. Sullivan of Illinois, dined together.

After the dinner, Chairman Mack declared every one seemed to be "sitting tight."

I do not believe either Wilson or Clark can be nominated now," declared Mr. Mack just before the convention was called to order.

The galleries were crowded as the time neared for the calling of the roll for the thirty-fifth ballot. They had been thrown open to the general pub-

FIRST DRESSING OF MR. BRYAN.

Stanchfield of New York Administers a Spanking.

Tries to Prove that He Is Not a Was Figure.

Groans and Applause Greet the Tammany Man.

BY F. STUART CLAWFORD.

(By Federal Wireless) One of the Times Baltimore Bureau of THE TIMES, July 1.—(Special Dispatch.) William Jennings Bryan, who has lost no opportunity to attack the New York delegation, practically calling them a lot of was puppets on Saturday, got his answer today. John B. Stanchfield, under the plea of explaining his vote on the twenty-seventh ballot, excoriated the Nebraska statesman. He declared Bryan had never intended to support the nominee of the convention until it was too late to do so. Any man, he said, who during the Republican convention had been writing for pay in the interests of Bryan's ally, Roosevelt, as the peerless leader has done, ought to be expelled from the Democratic convention.

BRYAN AS PLUTOCRAT.

In reply to the Bryan assertion that no candidate receiving the support of the New York delegation could hope to win a victory before the convention, Mr. Stanchfield declared that no candidate branded with the stigma of Bryanism could come within striking distance of election. As for Belmont, Ryan and Morgan being plutocrats of New York, the New York lawyer declared that the most powerful plutocrat of the convention had been Bryan himself.

"I come here from a State whose electoral vote is indisputably vital to the success of any candidate. Only upon two occasions in the history of the country has a Democratic President been elected without the electoral vote of New York. We represent a population of approximately ten million people. We cast in the neighborhood of 1,750,000 votes. We represent fifty-four votes in the Electoral College to come and one-tenth of the population of the United States. The integrity of the manhood, the personal and the political honor of every delegate of the ninety from New York has been placed in jeopardy upon the floor of this convention. And I have a right to be heard in its defense."

ANCIENT HISTORY.

"In the year 1900, I ran upon the Democratic ticket with Col. Bryan as the candidate for the Governor of the State; and we polled upon that ticket more votes by upwards of a hundred thousand than he polled before or since. Therefore, among the friends of Col. Bryan, at least, I am entitled to a hearing."

"Let us look at the record of the delegation from New York. We have here the Democratic Governor and Lieutenant-Governor of the State. We have upon the delegation the candidate for President of the United States in 1904. We have a justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York. We have lawyers of repute, business men, professional men in every walk and department of life and it is by common consent the most representative delegation that ever came to a national convention from New York State. If this delegation was composed of puppets of was, as designated by the gentleman from Nebraska, we say to that money grabbing, selfish, office-seeking, favor-hunting, publicity-hunting marplot from Nebraska that they are actuated by the same motives."

APPLAUSE.

Stanchfield was interrupted by applause from the delegates and the galleries. Quiet having been restored by the chair, the speaker continued: "If the ninety delegates from New York are within the control of one man they are within the control of a man who has been a member of the Democratic party for a moment and see whether or not the accusation of the gentleman from Nebraska be true. Let us look at the record of the passing minute. New York has upon the roll of Congress twenty-two members who have been elected to Congress by the support of the Democratic party. We have the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations. We have the chairman on the Committee on Foreign Relations and upon the fifteen great progressive measures that have been pending in the last Congress advocated under the leadership of Clark and Underwood, every one of those twenty-two men has been registered in accordance with the progressive Democrats of today. [Applause.]

"The gentleman from Nebraska has said that no candidate can go forth from this convention with the expectation of success who has behind him the vote of the ninety men from New York and I desire in reply to say that the vote of the ninety men from New York and no man can go forth from this convention stigmatized and branded with Bryanism and come within half a million votes of success. [Applause, cheers and hisses.]

DEMANDS ORDER.

The chairman: The gentlemen will be seated. Let us have order. Stanchfield: Bryan has said no man having the support of the New York delegation could be elected at the polls if he were under the influence of Ryan and Morgan and Belmont. I practice law. [For Bryan, applause, hoots and jeers.]

The chair: Now gentlemen, I hope you will not interrupt the speaker. He is a delegate to this convention and is entitled to respectful treatment. Stanchfield: He has said that no man would be elected by reason of their vote. I desire to say to him, in behalf of ninety delegates from New York, that there is no man in the number who, by his professional or business relations, or otherwise, is under the influence of either of the men that he has named. [Hisses and applause.]

And when he makes the statement that these men, Morgan, Ryan and Belmont, are plutocrats at this convention, he omits one name of all the delegates upon the floor of this convention. He has been the most powerful of plutocrats and he is the gentleman from Nebraska.

If the New York delegation is to be prevented from voting for the candidate of this convention, then there ought to be passed a resolution depriving of a seat in the convention

three to Wilson. Underwood's vote was unchanged.

On the fourth ballot Clark regained one of the Iowa votes which had deserted to Wilson. In Ohio Wilson gained one of the original Harmon votes, giving him twenty in the State to twenty-eight for Harmon.

Fourth ballot offered: Total, 1082. Clark, 423; Wilson, 1014; Underwood, 104; Harmon, 23; Kern, 1; Foss, 23; Clark, 1; absent, 14.

The only net change on this ballot was a gain of one for Clark and a loss of one for Harmon. Before Chairman James could order the fifth roll-call a tired Alabama delegate yelled: "I move that this convention adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

FORTY-FIRST.

A Mitchell Palmer of the Wilson forces demanded a roll-call, but the motion was withdrawn and the forty-first ballot was not taken.

Result of forty-first ballot: Clark, 424; Wilson, 1014; Underwood, 104; Harmon, 23; Kern, 1; Foss, 23; Clark, 1; absent, 14.

The forty-first ballot showed a loss of 2 for Wilson and a gain of 1 for Clark.

When the vote was announced, another attempt was made to adjourn. This time until 11 o'clock tomorrow. By the time Maryland was reached on a roll-call on the motion to adjourn a big vote had been recorded against it and it was withdrawn.

FORTY-SECOND.

Then in great disorder the forty-second roll-call was begun. As the forty-second ballot proceeded the disorder grew until J. Hamilton Lewis of Chicago, who was in the chair, had trouble enforcing quiet. The delegates insisted upon joking Lewis and the convention roared with laughter when Lewis's vote was announced. "Twelve for Clark, 11 for Wilson and one for the Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis," he called out.

When Michigan was reached the clerk called out the vote for the speaker and gained 6 votes at the expense of Wilson.

By this time the delegates were in a state of confusion. The speaker did not take things seriously. Every occurrence or announcement that came from the floor was greeted with a roar of howls and jeers.

DEMOCRATS IN STUPOR.

three to Wilson. Underwood's vote was unchanged.

On the fourth ballot Clark regained one of the Iowa votes which had deserted to Wilson. In Ohio Wilson gained one of the original Harmon votes, giving him twenty in the State to twenty-eight for Harmon.

Fourth ballot offered: Total, 1082. Clark, 423; Wilson, 1014; Underwood, 104; Harmon, 23; Kern, 1; Foss, 23; Clark, 1; absent, 14.

The only net change on this ballot was a gain of one for Clark and a loss of one for Harmon. Before Chairman James could order the fifth roll-call a tired Alabama delegate yelled: "I move that this convention adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

FORTY-FIRST.

A Mitchell Palmer of the Wilson forces demanded a roll-call, but the motion was withdrawn and the forty-first ballot was not taken.

Result of forty-first ballot: Clark, 424; Wilson, 1014; Underwood, 104; Harmon, 23; Kern, 1; Foss, 23; Clark, 1; absent, 14.

The forty-first ballot showed a loss of 2 for Wilson and a gain of 1 for Clark.

When the vote was announced, another attempt was made to adjourn. This time until 11 o'clock tomorrow. By the time Maryland was reached on a roll-call on the motion to adjourn a big vote had been recorded against it and it was withdrawn.

FORTY-SECOND.

Then in great disorder the forty-second roll-call was begun. As the forty-second ballot proceeded the disorder grew until J. Hamilton Lewis of Chicago, who was in the chair, had trouble enforcing quiet. The delegates insisted upon joking Lewis and the convention roared with laughter when Lewis's vote was announced. "Twelve for Clark, 11 for Wilson and one for the Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis," he called out.

When Michigan was reached the clerk called out the vote for the speaker and gained 6 votes at the expense of Wilson.

By this time the delegates were in a state of confusion. The speaker did not take things seriously. Every occurrence or announcement that came from the floor was greeted with a roar of howls and jeers.

Gov. Brewer of Mississippi, in answer to the speaker's question as to the name of the name in a free, rich, baritone voice, called out the name of the name in a free, rich, baritone voice.

WOMAN UMPIRES BALL GAME. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) ST. LOUIS, July 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the hazardous calling of an umpire is not to be demonstrated today, when Mrs. Thomas Layden, exceedingly pretty and young wife of one of the commissioners of the East Side Levee and Sanitary Board, handled the indicator in the ball game between the Granite City Elks and Knights of Pythias. The Elks won by the score of 13 to 5, but the losers did not attempt to elude defeat to careless decisions by the umpire. The game was replete with thrills, but the musical voices of Mrs. Layden calling "Strike," "Ball," or the graceful motion of the arm waving the batter back to the

BRYAN HIMSELF IS SQUELCHED.

Convention Refuses to Let Him Try a Stampede.

Clark in Second Place and Wilson Forging Ahead.

Commoner Can Break What He Can't Make.

BY GEORGE A. VAN SMITH.

(By Federal Wireline) Line to The Times.

BALTIMORE BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 1.—[Special Dispatch.]

Free-for-all fight, the convention refused to permit the Commoner to make a stampede speech under the guise of a statement of personal privilege, and a steady upward movement of the Woodrow Wilson stock, were the net results of William J. Bryan's activities at the afternoon session of the Democratic National Convention.

With Clark back in second place and Wilson slowly forging toward the majority mark, the afternoon session served only to lend probability to yesterday's forecast that Wilson's ultimate nomination involved only a question of time and endurance.

BRYAN AS A BREAKER.

Bryan had apparently proved at the expense of Champ Clark that he had the power to defeat, if not to nominate, any candidate. Proving it, the Commoner has developed a bitterness in the ranks of Democracy unlike anything ever experienced by that party of turbulence since the split of 1892. The depth of the feeling stirred up by Bryan suggested this afternoon by the demonstration which resulted in a free fight and the pushing of the heads of several militant Missouri supporters of Clark. On the completion of the thirty-third ballot the banner and desperate Missouri men sprang a plan to humiliate Bryan by the use of his own slogan of the man who has been the cause of the split. Just after the roll call was concluded, the Missouri delegates unfolded a big banner and marched with it to a place immediately in front of Bryan's seat with the Nebraska delegation.

FLAMING LETTERS.

On the banner, in flaming letters, was an excerpt from a speech made by Bryan. The banner and the letters were big enough to enable every one in the assembly to decipher and appreciate the manner in which Bryan's words were being flung in his teeth. The excerpt was:

"I have known Champ Clark eighteen years. He is absolutely incorruptible. His life is above reproach. Never in all these years have I known him to be upon but one side of the question and that was the side that represented the people."

"A RAS L'INFAMIE!"

Bryan rushed angrily and demanded that the banner be removed from his sight and from the sight of the howling galleries and delegates who cheered, or groaned, according to their sympathy or antagonism for Wilson.

The Missourians refused to take the offending banner from the sight of the Commoner and their refusal resulted in a free fight, without casualties, other than slight bruises and the flying descent of one of the Missouri delegates from the press stand impelled by the fist of a New York newspaper man who objected to being walked on in the case of Clark or any old candidate.

The combined efforts of the police, sergeant-at-arms and delegates resulted finally in squelching the banner bearers.

BRYAN IN PURPLE.

Bryan, purple with rage, and still smarting with the lash given earlier in the day by Stanchfield, sought to make a speech. His introduction did not meet the Ollie James idea of a statement of privilege and Bryan was forced to retire from the platform without delivering another anti-Clark speech.

The atmosphere was charged with promise of more and higher trouble when the managers of the convention decided upon a recess until 8 o'clock. By defeating Clark, Bryan has demonstrated that he is the greatest force in Democracy and that he still wields a personal influence greater than that of any American in politics. He is reaping a vengeance like that taken by any individual politician. He is reaping that vengeance because he was strong enough to take advantage of a situation created by his enemies. The measure of his strength looms bigger from the fact that he was in no haste to seize the opportunity afforded him.

ININCERITY.

The incoherence of his break from Clark may be proved by the conviction of the public generally and the Clark men particularly by the fact that he voted for Clark on four ballots after Murphy had swung the New York delegation to Clark. That, however, is beside the question, except as it serves to magnify the personal strength of the Commoner.

When the time suited him and without regard to the inconsistency of his previous vote, Bryan made the New York vote the excuse of breaking of his instructions for Clark. No man in the convention was stupid enough not to grasp the true significance of Bryan's switch. Every man knew that Bryan had not been for Clark. Every man knew the Nebraska instructions for Clark was distasteful to the Commoner. But knowing all that, the convention permitted Bryan to get away with the play and in the ensuing two sessions they saw that switch result in hammering nearly 100 votes out of the Clark column.

CLARK'S LEAD.

When New York switched to Clark Friday night he had a lead of 300 votes over Wilson. When the convention took a recess tonight Clark's strength had shrunk to within seven and one-half votes of his first showing and Wilson was leading by thirty votes, instead of trailing by 200 votes, and Bryan did it.

The top of Indiana, with its thirty votes, from Gov. Marshall to Wilson this afternoon, seemed to be a complete damper on the hope that Senator Kern of Indiana might be brought out as a winning Bryan compromise candidate. It seemed to mean nothing more than the mere transfer of thirty votes from a stationary to a climbing candidate. The thirty Indiana votes belong to Tom Taggart, who was counted on originally by the Clark people as one of the men who would deliver them for the grand finale. Like all those other powers that were to deliver to Clark, Taggart has failed the Missouri man. Taggart's flop into the Wilson camp was accepted as his recognition of the inevitable and the end of the Taggart-Sullivan-Murphy combine. The Sullivan wing of the combine was suspected early of wavering. The Illinois delegation did not cause and an informal meeting. The meeting disclosed thirty delegates who wanted to break to Wilson. The caucus resulted in a decision to stay with Clark, temporarily at least.

RIOT OF SILENCE.

Gov. Wilson is the Chief Figure in It, But He's Glad He's Gaining Votes in Baltimore.

BY A. J. ROSS, JR. TO THE TIMES.

SEA GIRT (N. Y.) July 1.—"They are coming as slowly as cold molasses," was Gov. Wilson's comment today upon his gain in strength at Baltimore. "But at that," we are doing better than we did last week. During the week we gained eighty-three votes; today up to the present we have gained seventy-one. The Wilson lines are getting solid. The gain is very satisfactory."

Gov. Wilson has become so accustomed to the suspense that he does not mind the sensation. He was in good humor all day and in good humor to accept an invitation to act as umpire at a baseball game which the newspaper men played on his lawn. He sat on his porch and watched the game with interest, however, and when it ended, after the forty-seventh run, he said that one of the players reminded him of "Roosevelt's attempt to steal third."

To the reporters who besought an expression of his opinion on the situation the Governor declared the only thing he could say was that he was making a "riot of silence."

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER.

With the announcement of the the prospect of the regular Republicans perhaps a voice will be heard from the amen corner to which the celestials' jomaders have retired since their return from Chicago. The bolters are doing nothing to boost their third party hereabouts, so far, and are depending entirely on Gov. Johnson. Incidentally, the money question is giving them some anxiety. Who is going to meet the costs of the campaign? They will have to wage for Roosevelt? The recent primary cost them $15,000 in this part of the State and $30,000 in the north. None of the millionaires among Johnson's following looked up to any extent, and the purse had to be raised by voluntary contributions—some of the "voluntary" contributions, too, being made with a wry face and an obvious reluctance. It is declared by clerks and others employed by the State to have been a distinctly "light wad" canvass. Now they are facing the real thing in the way of a political campaign, and they find themselves with a depleted bank roll and no credit.

The first Republican to seek the nomination for Congress in the Tenth District named his verification deputies yesterday and started his nomination papers out. Was Congressman Stephens? No; guess again. Was it Lee C. Gates, State Senator? No. It was Alex Mueller of No. 1418 West Washington street, really owner and agent, who has been threatening to worry Stephens for some little time. Against him, so far, the only candidate is Fred C. Wheeler, Socialist, a member of the Charter Revision Commission of this city. Wheeler is already making his canvass. The district includes San Pedro and several other sections where the Socialists are able to poll a heavy vote, and the Socialists intend to concentrate their strength here.

Frank C. Prescott, who was Speaker of the Assembly in 1905, when he was serving his second term in the lower House of the Legislature at Sacramento, and who was later register of the Land Office in this city, has announced himself as a candidate for the State Senate in the Twenty-first Senatorial District against Dr. Edwin M. Butler, who was a member of the last Assembly.

Rev. Edward T. Butler, colored, has filed his preliminary papers with the County Clerk as a candidate for the Republican Assembly nomination in the Seventy-fourth District, for which Pitney and Mouser have already filed their completed petitions, and for which Earl Newmire is another serious contender. There is a strong colored registration in this district, and Butler's candidacy has set the others to squaring their heels.

Earl Newmire, a candidate for Superior Judge, is expected to make his announcement here in a few days, and W. W. Widemann, may get into the fight.

David R. Jones, colored, is out for Supervisor against Supervisor McCabe, and Henry C. Hayes, constable, has had his campaign fairly launched for him at a public meeting held last Saturday night, at which there was a good attendance and at which the speakers were Capt. G. W. Hawkins, Earl Newmire, Justice Forbes and Frank S. Adams, a candidate for Superior Judge. There is no doubt that Hayes's fight is already well in progress, although he has not formally filed his preliminary nomination papers as yet.

The Hayes meeting was made especially interesting because of the launching of Earl Newmire's candidacy for the Assembly in the Seventy-fourth District. Among those who attended was the Justice Frank H. Mouser, who, when Newmire's name was mentioned, announced that those who were there did not understand the situation—that he, Mouser, had secured the backing of the Committee of Fifteen and that no others need apply for he had the indorsement of forty-three of the forty-five precinct committeemen in the district. This was not accepted as final by any means, and a petition was started formally asking Newmire to go into the fight at once. He is in it.

Superior Judge Fulton has filed the names of his appointees as verification petitions to circulate his nomination petitions. The others who have filed theirs so far for the superior bench are Judges McCormick and Rives, J. W. Summerfield, Justice of the Peace, Frank R. Adams, William D. Alderson, Fred H. Taft, and Edward L. Payne. It is necessary to have the names of some 1200 electors signed to the petitions.

THE WATCHMAN.

Pease Bros. Catalogue Advertising Series No. 14

BRASS BEDS are a pretty dry subject for most furniture houses and are usually only referred to by numerous quotations and various claims as to having the biggest assortment or the lowest lot of prices due to a "train wreck," "factories overstocked," or some other superficial reason—without much reference to quality. You know how it goes.

With us the subject is one of very great importance because there is a vast amount of difference between brass beds—and brass beds. Like everything else that we handle, the item of chief concern is QUALITY and unless the goods are in every way dependable they cannot come into this store. This matter of dependability is the chief factor in our success and has been the means of our building up a very large business—not only on brass beds but all our other lines.

We ask your careful attention to all the items illustrated in this advertisement and shall be glad to have you call and inspect the goods themselves, believing you will find that prices here are REALLY the lowest for safe quality.

FOR SALE—

The image shows a vertical, dark, and heavily textured surface. On the left side, there is a lighter, more uniform vertical strip, suggesting a hinge or a different material section. The main body of the image is dark, almost black, with visible vertical ridges and grooves, giving it a three-dimensional, tactile appearance. The lighting is very low, emphasizing the texture and the sharp edge of the lighter strip.

gave Wilson the lead for the ballot with 460 votes. It gave Clark 455.

The result of the ballot was:
Wilson, 460; Clark, 455; Under-

Kern, 2.Thus Clark lost 13 1/2 and Wilson gained 24. Underwood gained 9 1/2.
When the total vote of the thirtieth ballot was announced the Wilson de-
first time in the lead, made a demon-

The Eye of Brady's Camera

It was here, there, everywhere; it saw the frenzied crowds gather about the enlistment booths; it followed the marching regiments to Washington; it roamed through camp and battle ground. It was in the trenches, the hospitals, the forts, on the gunboats. It saw stern-faced duty command the assault and gentle pity bend above the stricken. It saw the truth—un-twisted by prejudice—unwarped by hatred.

The photographs that Brady took are startling, absorbing, different from anything you have ever seen.
They tell the intimate story of the war. Of the drummer boys and water boys and the many boys who got into the army by swearing
they were of age. They tell many a pathetic story of the death of these boys.

The pictures tell of women who were disguised as men and lived in camp; of the postoffice in the fields, how the men sent their letters, how they received them, of welcome news from home. They speak of the affection of Grant, Lee, Sherman and McClellan for their men—and the daring heroism of officers and privates in uniforms of blue and gray.

The photographs that Brady took bring you back to the days of '61. You see the volunteers, just enlisted, standing erect and proud beneath their flag. You see the hopeful Southern recruits drilling in homespun and "jeans"; the Corinth battlements; the wide-trampled fields of Gettysburg. They take you in the huddled Petersburg trenches—show you everything from Sumter to Appomattox.

who paid the price, as do

"THE BATTLE OF SHILOH."

Continuation of the History of the Civil War.
By Professor Henry W. Elson of Ohio University.

The Fall of Fort Henry and Fort Donelson.

Victories at Fort Henry and Fort Donelson were required to start the movement by which the control of the Mississippi River was gained for the North. From these battles General U. S. Grant sprang into fame.

The Battle-grounds of the West—Fighting Gunboats on Western Rivers.

To carry on war effectively along the shallow western rivers there were required armored gunboats and rams, constructed from light draft steamers. At Fort Henry and Fort Donelson and at Shiloh, as well as on the Mississippi, the Navy rendered valuable assistance to the Army and the last it played in these battles affords a tale of thrilling interest.

A Bloody Test of American Valor.

Shiloh—The First Grand Battle of the War.

Shiloh was the first battle to be fought in America that in comparison with the great conflicts of European armies could be considered more than a skirmish. With losses on each side exceeding ten thousand American heroes and courage as with carnage.

These War Photographs, Taken in 1862 and Here Reproduced.

Show Union and Confederate soldiers and sailors who served in the great western campaigns. There are photographs of gunboats and rams on western rivers and scenes of hard-fought battles that brought to North and South alike a grim realization of the mighty struggle yet to come.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The tax rolls turned over to the City Clerk yesterday show an increase in the taxable property of nearly $47,000,000 over last year.

The Board of Public Utilities investigated the water situation at San Pedro yesterday and ordered changes which it is expected, will bring about a better condition within a few days.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded to the Standard American Dredging Company the contract for filling about twenty blocks of land at Wilmington for $89,852.13.

The subject of abolishing the liquor-treating habit was broached before the Police Commission yesterday by Commissioner McDill, and it may receive serious consideration in connection with the proposition to eliminate the free lunch in saloons.

A Superior Court Judge frowned down, what appeared to be the beginning of a legal fight, yesterday, to obtain the property of an insane man, worth approximately $500,000.

At the City Hall.

ADDS MILLIONS TO ITS WEALTH.

NOTABLE INCREASE IN CITY'S ASSESSABLE PROPERTY.

Tax Rolls, Turned Over to City Clerk Yesterday, Show Gain of Forty-seven Million Dollars Over Last Year, Making a Surprising Grand Total.

A gain of nearly $47,000,000 in taxable property, based on a 50 per cent. valuation, is the showing made by the city's tax rolls turned over to the City Clerk by City Assessor Mallard yesterday. In exact figures, the increase is $46,924,495.

Last year the assessed valuation was $353,000,000, of which $320,000,000 was on the non-operative roll and $33,000,000 on the operative. This year the total is $429,924,495.

The non-operative roll this year shows $342,924,495, of which $217,443,595 is on land; $98,332,115 on improvements; $27,076,535 on personal property. Exemptions, due to the property of old soldiers, etc., amount to $4,990,510. The operative roll shows, in round figures, $59,000,000, while last year this roll showed $59,000,000.

The estimate on unsecured personal property, for which the taxes were collected by field assessors, is $24,000,000.

This increase is the more notable when it is remembered that the figures of last year were not the best of the city's history, while those of this year are on a 50 per cent. basis.

The tax rolls were opened to the public immediately after they were turned over to the City Clerk and all yesterday afternoon the office was filled with people anxious to make investigations as to individual assessments. The City Council will be held to sit as a Board of Equalization on Monday, July 8.

INSPECT SYSTEM.

WATER PROSPECTS BETTER. The Board of Public Utilities went to San Pedro yesterday to investigate the water situation and found the many complaints from there justified. Instead of ten or twelve feet of water in the reservoir, they found a little more than three feet, so that residents of the higher points were unable to get service. Meanwhile, complaints are made that Japanese gardeners outside the city boundaries have been supplied with water, and that the water company has not enforced regular hours for sprinkling and is allowing the water to run all night in some places, until gutters are flooded in the mornings, while at other places much water is used for private gardens.

The board ordered the laying of a new pipe line to relieve the upper section, and this is to be a three-inch line on Bay View street, from Second to Fifth streets. The water company will be required to shut off all water for irrigation until its water reserve is increased. This will leave the Japanese gardeners with 300 acres of crops in a serious condition, and it is possible the city may be involved in a suit for damages.

The water company today will begin the operation of a new pump on a well not used for some time, and this will give an increase of 120,000 gallons of water per day. With these changes it is expected the San Pedro water situation will be much better within a very short time.

BIG EXPENDITURE.

FILLING OF LARGE AREA. The Standard American Dredging Company was awarded a contract by the Board of Public Works, yesterday for the filling of an area of about twenty blocks of land in Wilmington adjoining on the west the area of land where the filling is now in progress. The general boundaries of the district to be filled are D and First, J and Fifth streets. The proceedings are under the Vrooman act and the contract price is $89,852.13. The contract itself is for the filling of West First street, but this really includes the raising of the land in the entire area mentioned, and also the raising of a few houses in the district. To fill the street alone would require bulkheading both sides, and it is cheaper for the dredging company to flood the whole area, with the dredging from the inner harbor and raise the entire surface, while this, of course, is more satisfactory to the property owners. The cost of this improvement is about 5 cents per cubic yard for the West Fifth street frontage.

Work on the new contract will begin within the ensuing thirty days and the company has 365 days within which to complete the work.

WILL OPEN PARKS.

COUNCIL TO ACT TODAY. The City Council today will take action on throwing open the city parks for public speaking on the Fourth of July. This is done as an emergency measure. It is probable that an attempt will also be made to provide an appropriation of funds so that bands can be secured for the various parks. It is believed that there will be sufficient volunteers to provide patriotic addresses for the various parks, and that although the program will be, of necessity, im-promptly in character, they will provide the city with patriotic exercises.

Must Await Finish.

The City Auditor has made a demand upon the Board of Public Works, approved by the City Council, for the refund to the treasury of $15,360 paid from the sinking fund as premium on the purchase of ad valorem bonds. It is argued that as the balance of the bonds were sold at par the sinking fund should be reimbursed for the premium paid on this purchase. Yesterday the Board of Public Works received an opinion from the City Attorney to the effect that there is no legal way in which the money can be paid out of the sinking fund, but that if there remains a surplus after the completion of the work then such a refund could be authorized.

The Board of Public Works will send this information to the City Auditor and Council today.

Would Send Hansen East.

The Board of Public Works today requested the City Council to modify its recent request that a member of the Board of Public Works go east to study the garbage disposal question. The board requested that the board may send Inspector of Public Works Hansen instead of Commissioner Humphrey, who was asked to make this trip.

Would Re-Route Cnrs.

Councilman Topham yesterday presented to the Board of Public Utilities a plan for the re-routing of Grand avenue cars which he believes will be of advantage. He proposes that the Grand avenue cars which now turn west at Seventh street, continue south on Broadway to Tenth street, thence on Tenth to Grand avenue; also that the Santa Fe station cars, which now have their downtown terminal at Seventh and Broadway be continued westerly on Seventh to Grand avenue and there turned back. He says that ninety cars per hour make the curve at Seventh and Broadway, of which forty-eight are Grand avenue cars, and that the changes suggested would eliminate much danger at this point.

Third Track May Remain.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday inspected the railroad conditions at Canal street, Wilmington, where complaint has been made of the existence of a third track. It was decided that because of the present unsettled condition of that district, and the fact that this third track is of much service to the district, it would be unwise to order its removal at present; but the question is to be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce at Wilmington.

When to Go to Bed.

The Fire Commission yesterday approved the rule that has just been established by Fire Chief Eley as to bed time for firemen. The rule reads: "That time for arising members of the Fire Department shall be not later than 6 a.m., and for retiring after 8 and before 11 p.m."

Might Go Further.

Chief Deputy City Attorney Robertson yesterday presented to the Police Commission the draft of the ordinance to prohibit free lunches in saloons, and the commission took the subject under advisement. The mayor stated that he receiving members of the commission representing both sides of the question and intimated that he is not yet certain as to which he favors. Commissioner McDill wanted to know of the Deputy City Attorney whether it is possible to prepare an ordinance that will do away with the system of saloons representing both sides of the question, and he may urge this radical step.

Money to Spare.

The Police Commission met yesterday to approve the salary list for the month and transact some minor business, and it was shown that there was a surplus of $100,000 in the appropriation for the fiscal year just closed. There are 216 positions in the department, of which 504 are now filled.

City Hall Brews.

The Fire Commission yesterday approved the Chief's appointment from the eligible list of the Civil Service Commission of Charles L. Frasier as a fireman, and Charles Peterson as an auto fireman.

George E. Platt, proprietor of Platt's dairy, yesterday sent to the Fire Commission a check for $24 for fire hose injured at the recent fire at his place, and also a check for $25 for the fireman's relief fund. Platt was in recognition of the able work done by the firemen at the time of this fire.

Fire Chief Eley reported to the Fire Commission yesterday that there are now 287 men on the pay roll of this department and there are fifteen hundred members who are fifteen years of age.

The fire record for the past week shows that there were fifty-four alarms of which were false. At ten fires there was no loss; thirty-two were grass fires. The estimated loss was $28,910 for the entire week.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contracts for current for ornamental street lighting to the various companies not serving the downtown districts, at the rate of 4 cents per kilowatt hour.

At the Courthouse.

SCRAP SNUFFED IN BEGINNING. The declaration of Judge Rives yesterday that he did not want any fight over the property of Lewis J. Hodge, a former banker of Illinois, until the man is dead, and the estate is returned to Hodge, has been returned to Hodge and look after their father's property in that State, put the quietus on a legal scrap which appeared imminent.

The two men were before the court, one from Mrs. Susan A. Hodge, the second wife, who stated that the condition of her husband's insanity is such that he had attempted to squander and depreciate the value of his property and therefore should have a guardian; she asked to be appointed.

C. Hodge, a son by the first wife, who named George Bradbeer of the German-American Savings Bank as guardian. The court appointed Mrs. Hodge guardian. She will look after Hodge's interests in this country. The value of the property is said to be about $12,000. Hodge is worth approximately $500,000. He was brought to a Glendale sanatorium for his health and Mrs. Hodge accompanied him. She resides in Glendale to be near him.

EXHIBITS SCAR.

HELPS WIN DECREE. A scar on the nose of Annie Laurie Stark, exhibited in Judge William's court yesterday, was largely instrumental as corroborative evidence in winning Mrs. Emma Claudine Flynn a decree of divorce. The injured nose was the visible result of an alleged attack made on Mrs. Flynn by her husband, William G. Flynn, at Eighth street and Ruth avenue, December 3, 1910.

Mrs. Flynn, who is a nurse at the Marjorie-avenue hospital, testified that while she was walking on Ruth avenue with Mrs. Simm and Mrs. Mary Josephine Sticklebunt, Flynn approached and placed the barrel of a revolver against her breast, at the same time uttering a vile remark. Mrs. Flynn instinctively threw out her hand, the thumb falling under the trigger. The only result was a painful bruise on the thumb as Flynn pulled the trigger.

In his rage Flynn struck Mrs. Simm on the nose with a brick, and his friend's assistance and dealt his wife a blow on the left temple. The scuffle attracted a crowd and Flynn fled. He did not appear in court yesterday. The Flyvns were married at El Reno, Okla., February 4, 1909.

LINEMAN WINS.

GETS LARGE JUDGMENT. E. L. Haviland, a lineman in the employ of the Southern California Edison Company, was awarded $15,000 damages by a jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday. He sued for $10,000 damages. The legal battle lasted eight days, the defense being that Haviland was guilty of contributory negligence in that he did not wear rubber gloves while working on a pole, cutting in secondary wires.

The accident, June 21, 1911, as alleged by Haviland, occurred when the company cutting in a wire he was every reason to believe was the tremendous shock hurled him from the pole, and the testimony showed that he was permanently injured.

The company produced evidence to show that Haviland had been paid his salary for seven months after the accident. The judgment will be appealed from.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

O'NEIL ESTATE IN COURT. Mrs. Fannie Johnson was granted letters of administration on the estate of her mother, Mrs. Matilda O'Neill in the Probate Court yesterday. The filing of the petition comes twenty-three years after the death of Mrs. O'Neill.

It seems that after her mother's death, Mrs. Johnson, believing there had been a will, asked her father about it. The latter could not recall having seen one. He told his daughter her mother had transferred the real estate to him and that he was not to have any personal property among the children.

An action was brought, but it was dismissed and nothing further was done in the matter until yesterday, when the petition of Mrs. Johnson was heard. Business property in this case, the location and value of which was not stated, forms part of the estate. It is alleged by Attorney Gusha.

LOSES SWEETHEART.

BECOMES A BURGLAR. Livie Bullock dates his career as a criminal from a disappointment in love. He bared his secret to Judge W. R. Hilder, yesterday, and asked a note of his former sweetheart's name.

Bullock and Oliver Wentworth were certified to the Juvenile Court cause both allege they are only 19 years of age. They took older. From their testimony, Judge Hilder, who caught Wentworth coming out of the window of R. W. Hile's grocery store at No. 229 West Sixth street early on the morning of May 28 last, and the defendant, Charles Peterson as an auto fireman.

ORANGE LOOKS FOR BIG WELL.

Pipes and Tanks Ready to Receive Output.

Amalgamated Six Penetrates the Oil Sands.

Hole Started With Prayer Is a Failure.

Interest in oil development in the Orange field is now centered in the Orange well, No. 3, which for some time past has been expected to produce a big producer when it finally comes in. The well is down about 2700 feet and in the sand where light oil similar to that found in the Mesquite is located. Pipes have been laid to the new storage tanks and preparations made for handling a heavy flow of oil. The crew is now cleaning out with the expectation of production soon.

The Standard in the Triarte well appears to have things in satisfactory shape and favorable results are expected. The well is down 2600 feet with eight-inch casing. The well was cemented at 3200. The trouble has been a heavy flow of water and now all efforts are being put forth to overcome it. Oil was actually struck several weeks ago.

The Amalgamated is looking for a good well in its No. 6, now in the oil sand at 2500 feet, and the consensus of opinion is that it will be producing within a short time. William Kammer, general manager of the company, has just returned from the property.

The West Coast is deepening its well No. 31, which is down 2850 feet. This is one of the old wells of the Industrial Oil Company. No. 44 is down 2750 feet with casing. The well is down 47 feet with ten-inch at 2810 feet and is in the sand. No. 48 has reached 1450 feet with twelve-inch.

The Oilinda Land Company is making efforts to get more oil. No. 10 has spudded in and well No. 11 will be in shortly. Ground has been indicated for No. 12. No. 8 has oil indications at 2000 feet and No. 5 is down 2600 feet.

The Whittier-Des Moines is still suspended. The company is said to have spent $75,000 on one well and encountered hard luck from the beginning. The particular well was originally spudded in with prayer, several preachers being present to begin the work with religious ceremonies.

McKittick Doping. A well brought in a few days ago by the General Petroleum Company, in the Belridge district, is reported as flowing at the rate of 8000 barrels a day.

The German-American Oil Company, owned by Columbia (O.) people, is having material hauled to sections 18, 20-21, in the Belridge district, and will erect two rigs on the property there and on section 4, 19-21. Harvey Cockrill is president of the company and B. E. Rice, a well-known oil man, will be in charge as superintendent.

Large quantities of material have been sent out to the site of the camp which C. F. Whittier and associates are establishing on the northeast quarter of section 4, 23-21, North McKittick front.

The Pittsburgh-Belridge Oil Company well, No. 2 on the northwest quarter of section 20, 23-21, in the Belridge district, is reported to be flowing from 350 to 500 barrels a day. On the northeast quarter of section 2, 23-21, the General Petroleum Company is preparing to drill its third well, electricity to be the motive power.

Work has been suspended temporarily on the S. and W. well, on the North McKittick front. A depth of 1750 feet has been reached, with good prospects for oil reported. No reason is given for the suspension.

The Stockton Midway on section 14, 11-21, is expected to bring in its well No. 4 within the next few days. The Hankins Company's first well, in the North Midway field, is in prospect. When it is said to be showing up strong. The company has bought two seventy-horse-power boilers, with a view to establishing a central steam plant for pumping oil.

Butch Well Flows. The Buick has drilled into the oil sands in its well No. 4 to a depth of 1150 feet. The well started to flow at the rate of 500 barrels a day and later increased to 1000 barrels. The oil is reported to be twenty-five gravity. Well No. 4 is 1230 feet south of well No. 3 and the sand was reached at 1150 feet less depth. The work of reconstructing well No. 3 continues.

The company has about completed reconstructing the camp buildings, which were destroyed by fire. The management reports that the Buick treasury contains $30,000 with no obligations except current bills, which probably not exceed $15,000. The last dividend of 4 cents a share, amounting to $127,254, was paid March 20. No regular dividends have been paid, but thus far two of 1 cent each have been paid at irregular intervals.

Ready for Production. National Pacific well No. 1, section 10, has pulled the finishing string in order to put in new perforated pipe, the sand having cut out the old perforations. The well is now being bailed down and should be on production list within the next few days.

The cement has been milled out of the well No. 2 on section 21 and it is now flowing. Well No. 1 on section 11 is flowing between 250 and 350 barrels a day and is gradually clearing itself of sand.

Syndicate Gets Well. The Syndicate Leasing Company, operating on the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 23, 10-24, Midway, under a lease from the Midway Union Oil Company, has brought in a well believed to be capable of producing about 800 barrels a day. This is said to test better than

FIRST DIVIDEND DECLARED.

Officers of Funding Company Report Progress at Semi-Annual Luncheon—Million Mark in Sight. The officers, directors, stockholders and salesmen of the Funding Company of California met at Levy's yesterday for their semi-annual luncheon and business talk.

It was announced that the company had declared its first dividend of 5 per cent, and is now established on a 10 per cent basis. It was also stated that the paid up capital has reached $800,000 with an authorized capitalization of $1,000,000. The addresses yesterday were informal and partook of the nature of business hints and suggestions. Talks were made by B. L. Vickery, N. F. Jamison, E. N. Childs and by the officers. These are: L. J. Christopher, president; H. C. Williams, vice-president; Maynard Gunall, secretary; D. F. Hill, treasurer; Frank X. Pfaffinger, John Lopsich, William Hicks, Frank C. Hill and J. B. Mulen, directors.

The company is only fifteen months old but ranks as one of the most important bond investment houses on the Coast. It has offices in the Union Oil Building, but will probably have a building of its own some time next year.

L. C. Wattle of Riverside, for eighteen years a director of the Santa Fe Railroad, will be elected to the directorate of the funding company at a special meeting next week.

Back to Nature.

CITY NOW GETS A NATURALIST.

AQUARIUM TO BE BUILT NEAR POINT FIRMIN.

Zoological Society Finds Favor in Eyes of Park Board—Eastlake "Boastful" Find Haven of Happiness in Griffith Park—Officers Chosen for New Corporation.

At a joint meeting of the park board and the Los Angeles Zoological Society held over an informal luncheon at Levy's yesterday noon, the appointment of Prof. Charles L. Edwards to be city naturalist, was confirmed, and plans presented by Edwards for an aquarium to be built at a convenient point along the coast approved.

Prof. Edwards presented a paper detailing the advantages of establishing zoological gardens at Griffith Park. This year's municipal budget contains an appropriation of $5000 to start this work, and the money will be expended under the direction of Prof. Edwards in preparing the park for the removal of the Eastlake contingent of animals to their new home. No appropriation has been made for the aquarium, which is to be of reinforced concrete, and will cost from $5000 to $10,000. It is expected the society will finance this project, although the park board, the members of which also belong to the society, may give some financial assistance. The building will be one of a number of units which are eventually to form the pretentious exhibit of the future.

At the meeting yesterday, John B. Miller was elected chairman, H. W. Keller, treasurer, and Charles L. Edwards, secretary of the Zoological Society. The other incorporators are: H. W. O'Melveny, C. F. Holder, J. F. Sartori, J. B. Lippincott, M. J. Connelley, J. A. Gray, Edward D. Silen, William A. Edwards, Edward B. Tuttle, E. C. Moore, William G. Kerckhoff, W. L. Valenzuela, John H. Schumacher, Charles Silen, and Jaro von Schmidt.

The membership is open to all and it is the desire of the incorporators to add to the list a large number before the annual meeting is held on the 22nd inst., at the California Club. It is also the purpose of the new corporation to promote nature study in the public schools, discourage nature faking, and preserve our native wild animals, now worried almost to the point of extinction. "It is an agency for moral uplift," says Secretary Edwards, "because when a love for animals is instilled into the heart it carries with it love for our fellow man."

Happy families of lions and tigers with liberal sprinkling of moose, wild cat, antelope, perhaps an elephant or two, and certainly a team of zebras will be delivered, all living in domestic felicity amid the fastnesses of Griffith Park—such is the star to which the special service of the Zoological Society has hitched its wagon.

"Eastlake Park is no place for the animals," said Dr. Edwards. "That's the old-fashioned idea of a zoo. It is not humane, and should be done away with. The animals should not be kept in cages, but permitted to roam the hills and dales as nature intended they should. Really they would be happier than in a perfect state of nature, because they would be protected from their enemies."

POPPY PICKERS' PORTION.

Special Train de Luxe Will Transport Southern California Elks to the Portland Reunion.

The Poppy Pickers' special is the name of the train de luxe which will carry Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Santa Monica and Long Beach Elks to the big doings at Portland next week.

The special will leave the Arcade station Friday morning at 9 o'clock and will be composed of seven sleepers, a buffet observation, two diners and a baggage car. Every car is hand-picked and the finest obtainable. The train will be in charge of Traveling Passenger Agent Balfour of the Southern Pacific.

The train is scheduled to reach Portland at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and the reservations are already sufficiently numerous to guarantee a lively and enjoyable trip.

The special derives its name from the B.P.O.E. No. 99 crack drill team which is known as the "Poppy Pickers." One sleeper is assigned to the exclusive use of this part of the delegation, and it is understood that the Pullman company has offered a prize for the delivery of the "Poppy Pickers" car at its destination.

The uniform to be worn by members of the Los Angeles lodge, other than the "Poppy Pickers," will be white flannel suits, white shoes, and straw sailor hats, this uniform to be worn on parade day. The colors for ladies on parade day will be purple and white.

HANGS ON SPIKE, NAILS CHINESE.

PATROLMAN STUCK IN WINDOW RAIDS LOTTERY JOINT.

His Body In and His Legs Out, His Belt Catches and Makes Him Captive, but He Sweeps Room With Revolver Until Help Comes. Wall Torn Out in Rescue.

Caught on a nail by his belt buckle as he endeavored to crawl through a small window, yesterday morning, to gain an entrance into a Hong King's lottery joint, No. 411 Central avenue, and with his legs hanging outside and his body inside, Patrolman Rogers covered the inmates with his revolver, and frightened the proprietor into unlocking the door.

Sgt. Hoover of the patrolmen's court the spectators were charged in complaints signed by Patrolman Rogers with visiting a lottery, and were fined $10 each. Hong pleaded guilty to having let the door be in his possession and paid a $100 fine. The raid was the third in Hong's establishment.

Sumday night the officers visited Lee Wah's place, No. 334 Second street. When arrested before Justice Frederickson yesterday morning, the officers via the ax and sledge hammer route. The first two times he was raddled an entrance was gained by a ruse, confederates on the inside opening the doors when officers on the outside gave a signal.

Sgt. Hoover of Patrolman Rogers made no effort yesterday to gain an entrance by means of axes and hammers. Mounting a ladder, the patrolman used his knife to kick in a small but heavily grated window which was set in a frame made of inch boards. He stuck his head through, but stuck. After the efforts, Sgt. Hoover tore away a portion of the side of the building to extricate Patrolman Rogers.

MAGONS GO SATURDAY.

One of Convicted Quartette May Be Witness Against Others; Others to Begin Sentences at Once.

United States Marshal Youngworth has secured reservations for the accommodation of the sentenced Magons, and accompanying guards leaving next Saturday for McNeil's island, Washington. That hour the party will leave will probably be kept secret, as it is intended that the sympathizers of the convicted felons shall have no chance to make a demonstration in their behalf.

The travelers will be Ricardo Flores Magon, Liberato Rios, and Angelino I. Figueroa. It is probable that Ricardo Flores Magon will be subpoenaed for the defense in the preliminary hearing of the Magon riot in the court of Justice Reeve, a week from tomorrow.

That will be at least three guards to accompany the marshals. Each prisoner will be handcuffed and perhaps chained to the car seats. If the men leave Seattle they will enter prison Tuesday morning to begin their stretches of twenty-three months each.

PSYCHOPATHIC WARD.

County Supervisor Decide to Place the Question of the Ballot at the September Primaries.

It was decided yesterday by the County Supervisors to place on the ballot at the September primaries the question of building an adequate psychopathic ward at the County Hospital. A tax levy of $25,000 was laid for this purpose last year, the intention being to build the ward in sections, but as the State law prohibits putting more than $10,000 in a single building, without the consent of the people, it will be necessary to have a vote on the question before the structure can be erected on the hospital grounds. The fund of $25,000 created last year will be available for the work, should the people vote to carry out the plans of the board.

TRUSTEES ENJOINED.

Corona Board May Not Enforce Ordinance Regulating Rates of Gas Company in Bankruptcy.

Judge Welborn of the United States District Court, yesterday confirmed the order of Lynn Helm, referee in bankruptcy, restraining the Board of Trustees of Corona from enforcing an ordinance fixing the rate for the consumption of gas for the year beginning July 1, 1911.

The action arose in bankruptcy proceedings of the San Bernardino Valley Gas Company. The Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank filed a petition last August for a rule upon the city of Corona, through its Trustees, H. T. Holmer, E. T. Kidder, A. E. Gillett, Edward Davis and A. H. Cross, to show cause why they should not be restrained from enforcing the ordinance passed by the Board of Trustees and void, and that it did not allow the owners of the property a return of 7 per cent on their investment.

The ordinance provided that, during the period noted, the price of gas should be $1.50 a thousand feet, with a minimum charge of $1 a month, with a rate of $1.50 a thousand feet for payment before the tenth. The order restraining the enforcement of the ordinance was signed by the referee August 14, 1911.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

In the United States District Court yesterday Thomas G. and J. W. McGavin, charged with smuggling, pleaded not guilty. E. Carpenter, one of the first men arrested in connection with the job entered a similar plea. Alexander H. Grant, the former Los Angeles jeweler, charged with conspiring to conceal stolen goods, pleaded not guilty. Attorney Joseph Seymour announced in court that he had retired from the Grant defense.

ORDERS FOR THE FOURTH.

Chief of Police and Fire Departments Prepare to Head Off Accidents and Flames.

The Chief of Police yesterday issued orders to all officers to strictly enforce the ordinance that provides that it shall be unlawful for any person to discharge, fire, or set off, any blank cartridge, firecracker or fireworks within the city of Los Angeles. Several weeks ago the Chief sent a notice to all merchants not to lay in a stock of fireworks as they would not be permitted to dispose of them.

What is a Tailoring Bargain?

If I were to give you a reduction of 25 to 50 per cent on a suit, I'd have to cut the quality of my tailoring. That would be no bargain for you—and would only disappoint you.

It is, however, good policy for me to sacrifice my profit to close out my summer fabrics.

I will give you unrestricted choice of any of my summer suitings—give you my regular high standard of tailoring—and cut the price $6.00 on any $40.00 suit, and $7.50 on any $50.00 suit. Let me measure you up today.

DECISION DEFERRED.

But Judge Welborn Is Expected to Render It Today in the Pohlman Contempt Case.

It was expected that the contempt case of H. W. Pohlman, that has been before the Federal grand jury and the United States District Court in various phases for some months, would be disposed of yesterday by Judge Welborn, on the presentment made by the grand jury that Pohlman should show cause why he should not be prosecuted for contempt for refusing to answer certain questions relating to correspondence and telegrams that passed between Pohlman and John J. McNamara and A. E. Clancy, between March 1, 1911, and April 1, 1912. The opinion was not ready.

It is believed that the court will render a written opinion in the case on account of its importance as involving the rights of officers of labor organizations.

SURE OF SALARIES NOW.

Local Federal Employees Rejoice When News Is Received That Extension Bill Is Passed.

There was joy at the Federal Building yesterday, when a wire was received from Washington that the resolution providing for the extension of the appropriation for the conduct of governmental departments had been adopted by Congress and signed by President Taft. This means that there will be no break in the payments of salaries.

Postmaster Harrison had arranged to pay the expenses of the local post-office from the receipts of the office. There are about 1000 employees of the office, and about $75,000 is required each month to pay the salary of the employees. One-half of this, however, is not due until July 15 and is payable on or before the 15th of the month.

Postmaster Harrison has indicated to let his official bond cover the expenditure but, with the action of Congress, everybody is happy.

HORSE BITES PATROLMAN.

Objects to Being Told to Move on and Bites Teeth—Fornads Beat Mexican, Perhaps Fatally.

A large bay horse, hitched to a little buggy, objected to being "bossed around" by Patrolman L. J. Amman, yesterday morning, and showed his resentment by biting the officer on the arm near the elbow when the officer endeavored to make him move on off the sidewalk. Amman was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Die, a Mexican, 30 years old, may die from the effects of a beating given him early yesterday morning by footpads, on Alameda street. Besides sustaining a possible fracture of the skull, Die received a three-inch laceration on the forehead and a three-inch and a one-inch cut under the left ear.

A slight concussion of the brain and internal injuries were sustained by Miss Gertrude Walcott yesterday when she was run into by a young man on a bicycle at Third and Hill streets. The wheel struck her in the stomach, and her head hit the pavement. She is 30 years old and lives at No. 615 West Seventeenth street.

Homer Johnson's left ear was almost torn off yesterday afternoon when he was knocked off his feet by a wheel of an auto driven by Henry Gunderman of the Soldiers' Home, at Poinsett street, several nights ago. Johnson and Gunderman were riding in opposite directions around a street car when they collided. Johnson is 14 years old and lives at No. 2124 Central avenue.

THE COST OF TRIALS.

The expenses of United States Marshal Youngworth's office for the three months ending June 30, were $20,234.44. The items are witness fees, jurors' fees, supports of prisoners, bailiffs, expenses of the United States Marshal's office, not including the salaries of the Marshal or District Attorney, and miscellaneous. Of this total, $12,727.78 was expended for witness fees. The Mason case alone cost almost $6000.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

The very great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, sickle appetite, poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system; show that the blood is weak or anemic, and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the damaged system and enrich the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened and depleted it could not successfully throw off disease germs, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria or some other debilitating sickness. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic. It is a composition of the extract and juices of roots, herbs and barks which science and experience have proven are best fitted for a tonic to the human system. It contains no minerals of any kind and is therefore perfectly safe for persons of any age. S.S.S. tones up the stomach and digestion, aids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and strength to every part of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, stimulates the secreting and excreting members to better action, quiets the overstrained nerves, and makes one feel better in every way.

THE KEY.

Men never doubt the presence or the permanence of mountains and seas. Many and strange are the wide waters which most of us will never see. High and innumerable are those hills whose trails most of us will never traverse. Nevertheless, none of us questions the strength of the hills nor the abundance of the seas. "Do the thing and you shall have the power" should be the text of every earnest life.

A GOOD MAN.

If a man could walk by opportunities for gain and for pleasure and turn neither to the right nor to the left until his feet led him to some distant marsh or field where a bird was broken wing lay waiting for a gentle hand to lift it into the kingdom of the air he would indeed be a good man. Goodness is the vision which sees where help may be bestowed and takes no rest until the aid is given. This sort of vision includes opportunities for self-help, but does not specify them above the chance of doing good to others. The treasures of the masterly man are the lives he can assist.

SOME DAY.

The Park Commission has caused young live oak trees to be planted around the border of Central Park. The oak is a beautiful tree and it thrives well in this locality. The fact that it is of slow growth should not discourage our park and our home builders from planting young oak trees. Those who plant them may never rest under their shade, but they will be joy-inducers to future generations. Men have no business thinking of life in spans of twenty or fifty years. They owe it to posterity and to their own good names to think of their city as an eternal entity just as much as to think of their own souls as immortal.

A N ENTHUSIAST.

Enthusiasm always imparts a glow to life, and when a man is enthusiastic about his work his success is the praise and never the envy of others. Los Angeles has always held the acting of Harry Metcalf in peculiar appreciation because in everything he does he expresses the optimism and the joy of youth. With Metcalf this has not been so much the trick of the artist as it has been the enunciation of a true philosophy. He believes in sunshine even where there seems to be shadow. Even, for instance, is this cheerful young actor's favorite dramatic role, in the terror of Ibsen's realism he sees a picture of conditions that exist and which must be realized before they can be remedied. Nothing true can be stark and unlovely when the motive is healing. It is the base reflection which makes life seem hard and bitter, while the happy man is he who looks for the good that may transcend those facts which appear adverse. This is the thought back of all Metcalf's laughter, and that is why his sunshine always gets across the footlights.

THE CORRUPTING PRIMARIES.

Never despair of the American people. They may go wrong, but not for long. Their sober second thought is always right. We are thinking of the direct primaries proclaimed so recently as sure to lead to everything that was good in our politics. In practice they are proving exactly what The Times warned the people they would be. To conduct them costs the people millions of dollars. But they afford the best means for political bosses to control politics ever known. The people as a whole have some more important business to attend to than electing aspirants to office. They are sick and tired of being called away from their business so frequently to attend to these affairs as voters. The members of some obstructionist party forswear themselves by registering as of the party they do not belong to, and fight an unacceptable candidate upon the opposition party. Look at Rhode Island, where the Democratic primary vote was not more than one-sixth of the usual vote of that party, for the "Dome" pretended to be Republicans. By falsely registering as Republicans the Democrats could force an unacceptable candidate upon the Republican party and then turn around and elect their own candidate. The trick is made easy through the habitual abstention from voting on the part of 75 or 80 per cent. of the whole body of voters.

The primary laws must either be amended or repealed.

That third-party movement appears to be stranded without the "makins."

THE TWO COLONELS.

The boss in American politics is more than perennial; he is semipermanent. He is multitudinous, and being so is of varying degrees of importance. The ward boss is very small; the State boss of some importance.

The citizens of the United States have never until recently permitted any politician to become a national boss. Examples are contagious, and already we have had two of them.

For sixteen years the Democratic party has debased itself by permitting a political dictator to run it. Mr. Bryan is more than a bright man. He is very ardent. He has cajoled, flattered, misled, driven and bossed the party all these years to such a degree that no man in the Democracy has been large enough or courageous enough to stand before him and contradict him. This naturally has made Mr. Bryan overbearing in his self-confidence and overbearing in his dictatorship. More than half the convention at Baltimore are opposed to him, and yet when, the other day, breaking through all precedent and the rules of the convention, he delivered a set political speech in his own behalf, there was not one man in the thousand present who dared to object.

The Republican party has had and still has bosses. But they have never dominated the party. In a national convention the combined bosses of the party from all parts of the country have failed to override the will of legally-elected representatives. One man attempted it during the meeting of the last Republican convention and, glory be, he got his quietus then and there on the spot and in the moment!

So far as the two men have been concerned their attempt to rule or ruin has been manifest in utter selfishness. Mr. Bryan made people believe that he was their leader, not a mere demagogue; that he was acting from patriotic motives and not from selfish ambition. At last they knew him, and knowing him in his undoing, Col. Roosevelt played the trick not so adroitly by half, and so all the sooner betrayed his purposes and found his political grave.

There is no telling what may happen at Baltimore. Mr. Bryan may still control the convention to such an extent as to win his own nomination for the fourth time, but he will never be elected. He is too well known now, and his selfishness is too self-evident.

As to the other colonel, we know pretty well what he will do. At all hazards, the lightning for the rough rider! But that will be all. He is a passing show forevermore, and not an interesting one, at that.

THE CASE OF SENATOR LORIMER.

On May 24, 1909, William Lorimer, a lifelong Republican, was elected United States Senator by the Illinois Legislature. There were 204 members of both houses of the Legislature, 127 Republicans and seventy-seven Democrats. Lorimer, received the votes of fifty-five Republicans and fifty-three Democrats. Albert J. Hopkins received seventy votes and Lawrence B. Stricker received twenty-four votes.

Senator Lorimer took his seat June 15, 1909. Eleven months afterward, on April 26, 1910, the Chicago Tribune purchased for $3500 from C. A. White, a member of the Assembly, a story giving particulars of the alleged bribery of several members of the Legislature, himself included, to cast their votes for Lorimer.

The statement of White was not intrinsically improbable, for there have been many instances of legislators, especially Democratic legislators, accepting the offerings of Col. Maumara for their votes, and this fact, as well as the positive testimony of White, caused the Chicago Tribune to accuse Senator Lorimer of having procured his election by bribery. The high character for reliability and fairness of the Chicago Tribune led the press of the country generally to accept its statements as true and they joined it in criticisms and denunciations of "Jack-Pot" Lorimer.

In response to the accusations of the Tribune Senator Lorimer made a speech in the United States Senate on May 25, 1910, and demanded an investigation of the charge that corrupt measures or practices were used to procure his election. An investigation was made by the Committee on Privileges and Elections under a resolution of the Senate passed June 29, 1910. The committee as a result of its investigations, extending over a period of six months, reported to the Senate that, "in our opinion, the title of Mr. Lorimer to a seat in the Senate has not been shown to be invalid by the use or employment of corrupt methods or practices."

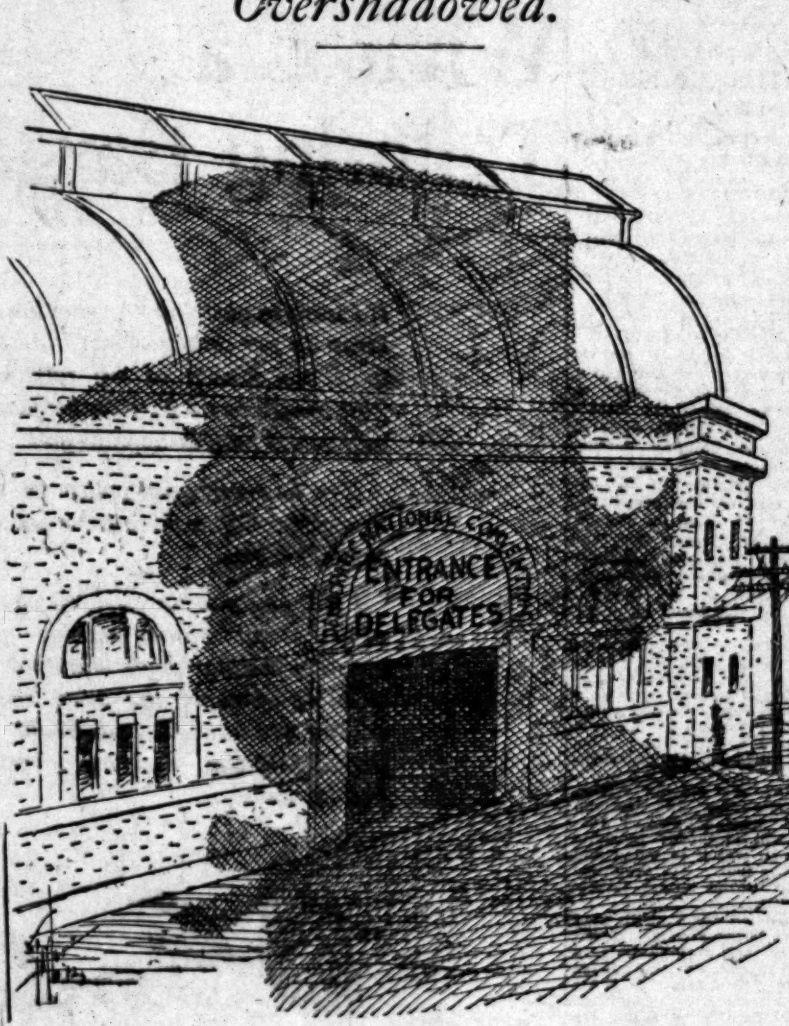

Senator Beveridge dissented from this report and offered a resolution that William Lorimer was not duly and legally elected to a seat in the Senate of the United States by the Legislature of the State of Illinois. On the 1st of March, 1911, after a lengthy debate, the resolution was defeated by a vote of forty-six yeas to forty nays.

After this vote had been taken it was claimed that before a committee of the Illinois Legislature, known as the Helm Committee, new and important evidence tendered to convict Senator Lorimer of having procured his election by bribery had been introduced, and on April 6, 1911, Senator La Follette introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the charges against Lorimer. This resolution was based upon the alleged "newly-discovered evidence," and on June 7, 1911, was adopted. The committee consisted of Senators Dillingham, Gamble, Jones, Kenyon, Johnston, Fletcher, Kern and Lea.

This committee devoted eight months to the investigation both in Washington and in Chicago and was in session 102 working days. It examined 130 witnesses whose testimony is contained in eight volumes containing 5568 printed pages, with an accompanying index digest.

The "newly-discovered evidence" consisted in part of the testimony of the original accuser of Lorimer, one Charles A. White. The original accusation of White was that of a street car conductor at $65 per month. He became a labor-union leader and, as boss of the labor-union lobby at Springfield in 1907, received $6 a day from the unions. He acquired extravagant habits. In 1908, when, with the support and influence of the labor organizations, he was elected a member of the Assembly, he was 28 years of age and $300 in debt.

At Springfield on January 1, 1909, he established himself at the St. Nicholas Hotel. Before the last of February he drew his entire salary, amounting to $2132, including mileage and stationery, and by the 1st of May was borrowing money.

White told Mr. Webb, an attorney, that he had received $500 or $600 of the "jack-pot" money. He tried to induce Webb to help him "hold up" the woman's ten-hour bill until the ladies would contribute.

White proposed to W. M. Roswell to take pictures of members of the House and Senate in compromising positions and then go through the State, Roswell to lecture and White to show the pictures on a screen, and to "make barrels of money."

White's final effort at blackmailing is evidenced by the following correspondence: O'FALLON, Ill. Dec. 4, 1909: Hon. William H. Lorimer, Washington, D. C.

My Dear Sir: I am preparing to publish an article in the Chicago Tribune giving my true experience as a member of the Illinois Legislature. The article will appear either in book form or will be published in one of the largest magazines in the United States.

I have just completed the manuscript, which contains about 30,000 words, giving in detail my absolutely true experience as a member of the Forty-sixth Assembly. As yet I have not closed a deal with any publishing house, but when my terms are acceptable I will dispose of it.

I have been offered a sum sufficient to pay the manuscript at about $2.50 per word. Believing that you would be more deeply interested in the works and actions of the members of the last session of the Illinois Legislature, owing to the fact that possibly your experience with that General Assembly will be one of the questions freely discussed, and assuring you that I have severed all connections with the party leaders, as well as am to be independent in the future in all my political dealings, I am,

Respectfully yours, CHAS. A. WHITE. Senator Lorimer replied as follows: UNITED STATES SENATE, December 13, 1909. Hon. Charles A. White, O'Fallon, Ill.

My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of December 4, in which you advise me that you have manuscript ready to place with the publishers, treating on your experience as a member of the Illinois Legislature. I would be very glad, indeed, to note your success as an author.

With kindest personal regards, I am, Yours very truly, WM. LORIMER.

The Senate Committee says that, "in the light of all the circumstances which have since developed, as well as by the testimony of four witnesses and his own conduct, the committee is of the opinion that the story of White is a pure fabrication so far as it relates to the election of Senator Lorimer."

Mr. White's story is so thoroughly discredited that it would have no weight in any court of law.

The committee further says: "From a most exhaustive examination and painstaking consideration of all the testimony in the case, the committee finds that White was one of the fifty-three Democrats in the Legislature of Illinois who for good and valid reasons felt justified in voting for Mr. Lorimer in order to break the deadlock which had existed in that body for so many months, and that White's attempt to enrich himself at the expense of his own reputation was the result of an afterthought and of a purpose which he conceived at a time when he had reached the lowest depths of degradation."

The committee regards the previous adjudication of the Senate on the question involved as binding. It says: "Absolutely no new and substantial evidence has been produced or discovered on this re-investigation showing that he was elected by corruption, and we believe that all the rules of law, judicial procedure and justice require that the former judgment of the Senate should be held to be conclusive and final."

"If the Senate should hold, however, that its former judgment can be reconsidered and vacated, we submit for its consideration our conclusions on the charges made and the testimony adduced."

There is absolutely no evidence in all the testimony submitted intimating, suggesting or charging that William Lorimer was personally guilty of any corrupt practices in securing his election, or that he had any knowledge of any such corrupt practices, or that he authorized anyone to employ corrupt practices in his election."

And Lorimer was completely exonerated. Lorimer, although a Republican, seemed to have had always a remarkable "pull" with Democrats. He was elected a member of Congress for several terms from a district previously Democratic and which, after he retired again, became Democratic.

TAFT AND HIS PLATFORM.

[San Francisco Chronicle:] We have from now to November to expose and rebut the atrocious slanders which alleged Republicans have been so vociferously circulating throughout the country, and which depicted President Taft as a reactionary affiliated with all that is vile. It is hard for truth to catch up with a lie, but it invariably does it in the end.

No one has yet ventured even to insinuate that President Taft does not exert himself to the utmost to carry out the policies to which he and his party are pledged, and the following are promises contained in the national platform upon which President Taft and party stand before the people:

Simplification of judicial processes, opposition to the "recall" of judges, and relieving courts of much of their work by establishing an Administrative Trade Commission with powers adequate to the determination of many matters.

Supplementing the present anti-trust act by a law specifically defining offenses against it, so that no one need doubt whether he is violating any law.

Retention of protective tariff, but revising the present tariff downward in the light of detailed information continuously acquired by a permanent Tariff Board.

Promotion of an international investigation of increased cost of living.

Reform of our banking and currency system, especially with reference to agricultural credits.

Publicity of campaign contributions, continuance of present conservation policies, a parcels post on the home system.

An adequate navy and continued improvement of our rivers and harbors, Federal assistance in control of the Mississippi River.

Extension of time for payment by settlers under reclamation projects, leasing of the Alaska coal lands, better control of immigration, provision for greater safety of ocean travel, encouragement of an American merchant marine.

Extension of the competitive civil service so as to reduce the power of patronage and the creation of a superannuation system for civil servants, protection of naturalized Americans abroad.

UNCLE WALT.

The Post Philosopher.

When you have a task ahead, do not view the same with dread—that's unwise; it is vain the rag to chew, or to raise a hubbub; no one knows what he can do till he tries. Though the task gives you a pain, it is idle to complain; spring a grin; do not stall around and say: "I'll do this some other day." Go to work, serene and gay, and you'll win. They who win the laurel place in the bustling worldly race are the chaps who go at their work with vim, with determination grim; looking not, till eyes grow dim, for the snaps. At this juncture comes my frau, saying: "Dinner's ready now—come and eat!" If I were a trifling skate I might well procrastinate, skating to my helpful mate frigid feet. I might say: "Oh, what's the use? Yesterday I ate a goose and a cheese; if you wish to please your lub you won't speak to me of grub; give it to some hungry lub, if you please." But when duty calls I rise, resolution in my eyes and my heart; to the table, stern and calm, then I go and eat a ham, winding up the meal with jam and a tart. This is my plan; I am not afraid. If your duty like a man—do not shrink! If you stall and hesitate, grumbling at the rules of fate, we shall find you, soon or late, on the black!

TEN RICHEST CALIFORNIA COUNTIES.

According to the State assessment rolls for 1911 Los Angeles county heads the list of California's ten richest counties with a property valuation for tax purposes of $607,182,763, or nearly $82,000,000 more than the property valuation for taxation of San Francisco county.

The State's ten richest counties are: County. Valuation for Taxation. Los Angeles $607,182,763 San Francisco $453,398,903 Alameda $268,308,470 Sacramento $78,236,179 Santa Clara $76,282,890 Fresno $70,614,735 Kern $65,845,825 San Joaquin $64,807,807 San Diego $53,735,870 San Bernardino $52,438,789

The classification of Los Angeles county tax valuation is: Real estate $318,839,450 Improvements thereon 129,640,520 Operative property 80,557,813 Personal property 69,889,876 Railroads 9,870,450 Money and solvent credits 8,594,459

Total for Los Angeles county, $607,182,763 Total for the State, $2,599,914,690 The classification for the State is: Real estate $1,389,470,478 Improvements thereon 554,661,518 Operative property 252,884,763 Personal property 233,378,450 Railroads 141,111,947 Money and solvent credits 28,409,335

Total for the State, $2,599,914,690 These figures show that the valuation for taxation of the property in Los Angeles is not much short of one-fourth of the State's entire taxation valuation.

Couldn't See the Joke. [Kansas City Star:] The late Richard Mansfield possessed a very concise and penetrating wit, of which only those who knew him intimately saw the best flashes. One day in his dressing-room he chanced to read a prize offer of $50 to be given for the best story about an umbrella. He scribbled something quickly on a scrap of paper and turned to an English friend who was with him and said: "I have a good one. Here it is. We will send it in."

The friend took it and read it and read these words: "Once I bought an umbrella. The Englishman in telling of it afterward, added: 'And Mansfield really thought that blooming thing was funny, but we did not send it in.'"

An Unfortunate Text.

[From Norman B. Mack's National Monthly:] The widow had just taken her fourth wife and was showing her around the village. Among the places visited was the churchyard, and the bride passed before a very elaborate tombstone that had been erected by the bridegroom. Being a little nearsighted she asked him to read the inscriptions, and in reverent tones he read:

"Here lies Susan, beloved wife of John Smith, and Jane, beloved wife of John Smith, and Mary, beloved wife of John Smith."

He paused abruptly and the bride, leaning forward to see the bottom line, read to her horror:

"And Mary, beloved wife of John Smith."

It is proposed that Los Angeles have a theater for women. Some time ago a theater for children was discussed. Why not have a theater for gentlemen?

What has become of the new-fashioned woman who tells her husband every night how bad she feels and what a hard time she has had all through the day?

It is possibly true that the farmer is the happiest man on earth, as Andrew Carnegie declares. But we have noticed that none of the ice dealers are grumbling.

This is the time of year when the lubst man gets a vacation, goes fishing and forgets that there is any such thing as labor troubles, or that the Darrow trial is on.

Harry Thaw, who expects to practice law as soon as he is released from Matteawan, will begin the profession with the latest collection of technicalities in the country.

Racon Rind is one of the leading candidates for the position of chief of the Osear Indians. But our money is going up on Hominy. Hog and Hominy are hard to beat.

The German government denies that it has any intention of landing an army in Mexico. A denial was hardly necessary. The Monroe doctrine would care for that situation.

The new steamship line from South America, expected to touch at San Pedro, has a vessel christened the Inkum. The sister ship, which likely be known as the King.

King Alfonso cordially invites Americans to take part in the World's Fair to be held in Seville in 1914. But we do not understand that pictures of the Maine will be in the art exhibit.

The Rhode Island Legislature passed a law compelling railroads to issue passes to all its members. Why should they walk passes when they can't help living with walking distance of the capitol?

An oil painting of the Yosemite Valley is valued at $25,000. But why should there be of humble means repine? One can go to the Yosemite for $50, and that beats all of the oil paintings of it ever seen.

The life of a Los Angeles boy is not all joy these vacation days. Before he can get his supper he has to wash his dirty chubby hands and run down to the stove and get some things that mother forgot.

A social reformer says that girls ought to be taught to flirt. Certainly, and they should be taught to chew gum, eat chocolate, ice cream soda, use powder and do a lot of things of which they now know nothing.

The superstitious man who adds the four figures of 1912 together and finds that the total is thirteen now feels justified in declaring that the present year promises to be very unlucky for the Democratic machine for President.

The new King of Denmark appears to be making a hit in his job. The most of us, however, know but little about Denmark except that it was the scene of Shakespeare's greatest tragedy, "Hamlet," and of old Dock Cook's premature triumph.

If the practice of employing dictagraphs to compromise folks becomes general it will soon be necessary for a man who wants to say things that will not hurt his play and his pocket to take his friend out on the street—and then not say them.

JOURNEY'S END.

Through darkest nights one star Leads us to where rest are. A flower, a quiver, but also by its fragrance; you are there.

Yet is all incomplete Until I reach your feet. As love and faith stand sure, So shall this quest endure.

Nor flower nor stars need be, When I find all in thee; When Journey's End shall bring A bourn to wandering.

BARRYMORE'S BIG KILL

COOL RECEPTION, GIVEN ENCE IN FIFTEEN MINUTE

Star Reddies Old-fashioned in "On the Quilt"—Best of on the New Bill at the Opera House.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

John Barrymore's highly successful debut at the Boston Theatre last night reminded me of a public on some pugilistic black horse sneaks into his corner unharmed by a couple of guys who have him, and, perhaps two minutes later, is acclaimed a hero by the multitude.

The theater needed no ar cooling apparatus at the time Barrymore's entrance. Apparently the whole house came from the balcony to see the actor.

It did not take "On the Quilt" Augustus Thomas play, a bit old to reveal Barrymore as a man of laugh-making talents, more was funny despite many lines, which were banal—paraphrasing a direct war which description.

"On the Quilt" was originally acted by William Allen, the while Willie. In its day we called it a pretty good piece of farce, and it was called "Fortune Hunter," and farces "Seven Days" have moved us on the thrust of the more modern sign and incidental happenings.

To Mr. Barrymore falls the role of Ridgeway, a young man who would inherit $100,000 would but go to college for years and delay his nuptials in doing so. Of course he doesn't want to be any play, there wouldn't be any play, there wouldn't be any play, there wouldn't be any play.

TUESDAY MORNING.

BARRYMORE'S
BIG KILLING.COOL RECEPTION, GETS AUDI-ENCE IN FIFTEEN MINUTES.

Star Reddems Old-fashioned Stuff in "On the Quiet"—Rest of the
on the New Bill at the Orpheum
This Week.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

John Barrymore's highly successful debut at the Orpheum Theater yesterday reminded me of a public conquest by some pugilistic black horse who smacks into his corner unheralded save by a couple of guys who bet on him, and, perhaps "On the Quiet," is acclaimed a hero by the multitude.
The theater needed no artificial cooling apparatus at the time of Mr.
Barrymore's entrance. Apparently the whole house came from Carthage.
Yet before the act was half over he had given the zero-faced first-nighters evidence in spite of themselves, while half the actors were quite broken up by the comedian's unexpected attack.
It did not take "On the Quiet," an Augustus Thomas play, a bit old-fashioned, to reveal Barrymore as a young man of laugh-making talents. Barrymore was funny despite many of his lines, which were banal—personally dumb in many ways which baffled description.

"On the Quiet" was originally utilized by William Miller, the great while Willie. In its day we considered it a pretty good piece of the farceful sort. But come to think of "Fortune Hunter," and farces like
"Seven Days" have moved us considerably beyond the "Quiet." Nevertheless even in this place one does not escape the keen Thomas observations upon life, his shrewd generalizations of human nature, his appreciations of the weaknesses—
most of them petty and comical—of man and womanhood. In the design and incidental happenings, "On the Quiet" is quite unimpaired. In solized lines it sparkles. It is a To Mr. Barrymore falls the role of Robert Ridgeway, a young man who would inherit his father's impulsiveness but who would not do it would but go to college for four years and delay his nuptials by so doing. Of course, he doesn't there wouldn't be any play. He is married—on the quiet—at the end of the act. His father finds it out in Act II, but it takes three acts to convince everybody.

Characteristically of 1912 model; quiet;
excellent in footwork; hands working well, especially on the defensive,
which is the thing most called for here; instantaneous resource, and possessing an almost spontaneous faculty of doing funny little things on the thrust of the moment's necessity. Mr. Barrymore first got the whole audience laughing with this not very clever and really quite inconsequential little part, and then, one after another, bowled over the actors. I saw Brother Applebee turn a snicker quickly upstage at least three times.

To say just why Mr. Barrymore is funny would be as difficult as to describe Eddie Foy's unearthly singing, hope to leave you to make your own answers.

There is a long cast, in which William Wolbert is marked by his remarkable successful make-up of an austere, middle-aged man; Mr. Messinger wrestles to the best of his ability with one of the English characters so popular ten years ago;
Mr. Applebee does another of his palm-voiced, lamenting clergymen;
Mr. Marks contributes a tough guy of the good old Charley Hoyt stripe, and Mr. McLane is a properly stern and properly-reluctant father.

Miss Muriel Starr and Miss Beale
Barricade play a couple of sweet young things. The week is marked for Miss Starr by a series of pretty gowns, which really become her, and which exhibit her as the little young creature she is, rather than as the human what which her dressmaker has unfortunately had her on one or two other occasions. Neither Miss Starr nor Miss Barricade has any chance to do more than exhibit a thin veneer of their respective abilities.

The scenery is excellent, and I shouldn't be surprised if Mr. Barrymore would pull this old play for a rattling two weeks.

Mrs. Barrymore—Katherine Hythe —makes her debut here in a very shadowy little part.

Orpheum. And the young Orpheum, celebrating his first birthday, carried the "greatest" over one week, beginning to celebrate all over again yesterday afternoon, and let the second spread come as a desert to the first, and the desert was compounded almost entirely of sweet things—and the sweetest things of all, John Tiller's twelve Sunshine Girls, were served twice to the assembled multitude.

In plain English, undelivered by metaphors, mixed or unmixed there's a working good bill at the Orpheum this week, and the twelve pretty dancing and singing girls from London appear twice on the programme—and they would have been welcomed three times, so well trained are they, so ready to look at, so delightful to watch.
On the first occasion they come out in abbreviated and becoming costumes of lavender and purple, and sing and dance only, without the aid of Harry Rogerson, fun-maker. But they don't need his assistance. Then, at the end of the programme, they appear in something called "Fun in the Harem." They are the wives of the Caliphs—lucky dogs! There is fantastic fun in this musical comedy, and little, pretty costumes, pretty dances, tuneful ditties, and everybody has a good time generally. Rogerson cracks jokes and turns some serious in his imitable way.

James H. Morrison, author of "The Miracle," calls his playlet a psychological fantasy. Fantasy it certainly is, but its psychology is not so sure.
It begins much better than it ends, for its second half is very like the best scene in "Hamlet" brought up to date, and has a tendency to make you laugh if you have an irreverent mind. The ghost of Robert Alger, as seen and heard in Mrs. Alger's dream, talks almost exactly like the ghost of Hamlet, ps. All this, however, may be carping criticism. The playlet is interesting, and is, of course, remarkably well acted, not only by Florence Roberts, who plays the wife and wife of Alger, a suicide, but also by the others in the cast, more particularly Charles Wrayne, whose reserved and beautiful work in the part of Mrs.
Alger's lover is one of the most satisfying things ever seen on the local stage.

A skit of much charm and considerable wit is "No Trespassing," given by Louis Winsch and Josephine Jones, both of whom act well and speak better. They wear good and

KNIGHT Columbia MOTOR

A MOTOR with positively-driven valves which cannot fail to move when it comes their turn to move, is a necessary feature of the perfect car. It gives a dependability equal to that of the steam engine.

This quality in the Knight motor enables it to produce more power out of a given cylinder volume than any other type of motor can produce. It is more flexible—durable—and silent.

Columbia Knight superiority is evident in all the features of its design, in keeping with its perfect motor. Charles Y. Knight personally approved it in every detail.

CHICAGO TEAM LEADS GOLFERS.

Los Angeles Women Fail to Retain Higgins Cup.

Playing Extends Throughout Western States.

San Gabriel Team Makes a Good Average.

CHICAGO, July 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Early reports indicate that the team championship of the Women's Western Golf Association will go to the Midlothian Country Club of Chicago, which finished three down in the annual competition for the Crafts W. Higgins trophy played today on the courses of the competing clubs throughout the West. The teams played against the par of their course.

Midlothian's fine showing was due to the clever play of Miss Myra Helmer, who turned in a medal card of 41-59-91 and finished with Miss Merjorie Edwards also helped her side by finishing three up. Midlothian won the tournament in 1909, when the trophy was played for against par for the first time. Los Angeles won last year.

EXMOOR SHINER.

The Exmoor Country Club presented a well-balanced quartette and finished eight down. Mrs. F. G. Jones of Memphis, who lives at Highland Park in the summer, led the side with two up. Mrs. Lawrence A. Mills, who as Miss Frances Everett, won the women's western championship in 1904, finished two down.

Mrs. Edmund T. Perkins led the Glenview four with a medal card of 50-48-95, finishing two up. The team finished twenty down and tied with the San Gabriel Country Club of California.

SOUTHLAND TEAMS CLOSE TOGETHER.

The Los Angeles and San Gabriel clubs competed in the Crafts W. Higgins cup golf play yesterday. The Los Angeles team on the Beverly links made a score of eighteen down on par and the valley team was twenty down.

The Los Angeles club was represented by Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mrs. W. P. Van Dyke, Mrs. Guy Cochran and Mrs. W. T. Bishop. Two of the players who were members of the team last year won the cup with a score of four down on par, against the teams throughout the West, were unable to play this year and as a result the team was weakened.

MRS. GRIFFITH LEADS.
Mrs. Griffith was even with par, making the best individual score for her team. The other scores were as follows: Mrs. Van Dyke, four down; Mrs. Cochran, six down; Mrs. Bishop, eight down.

The San Gabriel Club was represented by Mrs. J. P. Elliott, Miss Marion Clarke and Mrs. J. M. Pierce. Mrs. Elliott finished one up on par and Miss Clarke, one down. Mrs. Pierce, however, was unaccustomed to competitive playing and did not play her best game. Their scores were eight and twelve down, respectively.

CAN SHIP FILMS.

Crimp Put in Bill That Planned to Prevent Circulation of Fight Pictures.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The passage of a Senate bill which would prohibit interstate shipment of prize fight moving picture films was blocked in the House today. Representative Sims of Tennessee, Democrat, sought to pass the measure immediately, explaining that the Johnson-Flynn fight was scheduled for July 4 and he hoped the picture films, which he barred from leaving New Mexico. On a point of order that a quorum was not present, the House adjourned.

Miss Mary Brown defeated Miss Sears at Philadelphia for the grass championship two weeks ago, and still holds that title, but today's victory gives Miss Sutton the clay court championship of this country.

Miss Sutton and A. H. Harris defeated Miss Mary Brown and R. N. Williams in the final of the mixed championship, and are hailed tonight as the undisputed champions of the clay court. In mixed doubles their score was 6-3, 2-6, 6-2. This was a splendid match, the very best yet brought out of all four players, and many thrilling plays were made.

R. Norris Williams, the Pennsylvania State champion, is now national champion on the clay tennis court having today defeated Walter T. Hayes of Chicago, the title holder, by scores of 6-3, 6-1, 6-5. Previous to this match Mr. Williams had defeated G. F. Touchard, of New York in the final of the men's singles by scores of 6-3, 6-7, 6-5. The New Yorker was easy for the champion in the

WHIFFS FROM THE OLD SPORT PIPE

When it comes to writing analytical opinions of prize fights, Charley Eytton is certainly "there." But sometimes his foot slips.

His statement that Wolgast has the advantage of a stolid phlegmatic disposition over the nervous, high-strung Mexican, Rivers, is certainly the most amazing thing that has so far been written of this fight.

Their Dispositions.
Rivers, like every other Mexican who ever lived since the world began, couldn't worry over anything if he tried to.

Nerves come either from bodily difficulty or from too much introspective thinking—that is to say—worry. Latins are not given to self-analysis; Tautons are.

Wolgast gives the appearance that Mr. Eytton suggests for a reason exactly opposite to Mr. Eytton's conclusion. He appears to be stolid because he has remarkable powers of concentration. He has an analytical mind.

It is really Wolgast who is high-strung and sensitively organized. Wolgast is a thoughtful boy—Rivers an impressionable one.

A Burst of Glory.
Billy Mac Cain, manager of Sam MacVea, is on his way to Las Vegas accompanied by thirteen diamonds, three pearls, a rub and a signet ring.

Decorated by this collection of rocks he spent a few hours yesterday in Los Angeles. Mac Cain is the only colored fight manager of any prominence in the United States. His elegance of manner is at times almost agonizing.

MacVea Wants Champ.
Mac Cain is on his way to have a conference with Jack Johnson.

"I am going to ask him to either give Sam the next fight or give him the championship. If he says that he intends to retire, as he says, after the Flynn fight, I will ask him to turn over the heavyweight championship of the world to MacVea."

May Sutton Heads Women.

TENNIS CHAMP WILLIAMS SURVIVOR OF TITANIC.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, July 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss May Sutton of Los Angeles is again the champion in women's singles, today defeating Miss Mary Brown also of Los Angeles, by scores of 6-4, 6-2. The winner displayed her old-time dash and vigor, and although Miss Brown played splendidly, the placing and serving of her more experienced opponent had the effect of bringing her under the wire first.

Miss Brown defeated Miss Sears at Philadelphia for the grass championship two weeks ago, and still holds that title, but today's victory gives Miss Sutton the clay court championship of this country.

WHEN WOLGAST FOUGHT WITH A BROKEN ARM

THIS is the same old arm that I hurt in the fight with Jack Redmond," said Ad Wolgast, yesterday, as his injured arm was being rubbed.

"That was the worst experience I ever went through in the ring. In the third round, I struck him and something cracked like snapping your fingers. An awful pain shot through my arm. It felt like the nerve of a tooth being pulled. My old arm dropped helpless to my side.

"As my light weight title was at stake, I could not give up. I knew if this bird beat me, I would never get him into another fight; so I managed to fight on. I covered up as best I could with my right arm and ducked down behind my left shoulder.

"The bone of my arm had torn clear through the flesh. I looked down and saw the end of the bone sticking through the flesh. I held it at my side, holding onto the bottom of my trunk with my finger to keep it out of the way. Every time I moved the arm it was in agony and this seemed to hold it much more steady. "That boy Redmond can punch something fierce. I took his licks with the side of my head, keeping the point of my jaw out of the way behind my shoulder. "The pain was so great that I got faint. A doctor in my corner began shouting some hop into my arm but the pain was so great that I couldn't feel it. I had an idea that this dope always made you sick and told him not to do it when I saw his instrument, but he told me that he had already shot the stuff into the arm three times while I was lying there half faint between rounds. "Once I went half through the ropes and Redmond, pretending to help me, took hold of my injured arm to help me up again. This made me so mad that I slugged an awful crack. "When the ten rounds were ended, Redmond was groggy and in a worse condition than I was. "I never again expect to feel such pain as when I fought those seven awful rounds with that broken arm hanging by my side—punching and guarding with my other one."

CHAMP'S ARM IS SWOLLEN.

Hurt Sunday and Still Somewhat Sore.

Referee Welch Is Due from Frisco Today.

Both Fighters Practically Cease Work.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The war cloud thickens as the clans begin to gather for the light-weight battle of July Fourth. This morning Jack Welch will arrive from the north and will at once visit the fighters and have an understanding of the rules. The San Francisco delegation, 400 strong, will also arrive this afternoon.

When Rivers came off the road yesterday morning he tipped the beam at 133½ pounds, thereby bringing joy to the heart of his manager, Joe Levy. The contender has been around the mark for about a week, but this is the first time he has really been safe and from now on will not put on a glove until the day of the fight, only taking enough exercise to keep him at the weight. This is the right way to handle an athlete. It will give him practically two days of rest and during this time he will have a chance to gain strength and nerve tone. There is nothing like relaxation to build up reserve energy and with Rivers only doing a little road work and some handball, he will spend all his time developing a great nerve force that will stand him in good stead for a fight with a man of Wolgast's type.

TIGER CAT MEWS.

The Mexican tiger cat has that appearance of lazy indifference, common to physical organisms holding great strength. The contender pulled a good one yesterday afternoon while we were standing around in the gymnasium.

"Let this fellow bring all the poison he has got into the ring on day one of the fight and he will find that I have a medicine for each case. Wolgast does not look any different than the others I have met and why should I worry. The guy who thinks he can't be knocked out is cockoo. They all can get it. I have learned the lesson and I think Wolgast will have a little lesson to learn also. If he goes in there with the idea that I am going to stand up and let him bat my head off, I suppose they all say I can't think, but just fight because it is spiritual. Well fighting does come natural, but I can think when I am doing other things, so why not in a fight?"

Just because Joe Rivers is not always talking is no sign that he has no brains as many think. We have become pretty well rooted in the idea that Rivers is some kind of animal, but after knowing him for two years, I feel sure that he has one of the most active brains in his business; otherwise he could not be interested in so great a variety of subjects. There is another thing greatly in favor of Rivers. He can concentrate on whatever is at hand. After training and talking fight, he can jump to auto, farming or anything else and forget the fight all together.

AD'S BAD ARM.

Yesterday Ad was worrying about his arm, which he bumped Sunday afternoon in the bout with Hobe. It has swelled up and bothers him. The hurt looks as though the muscle next to the bone had been bruised. While this will not stop him, it will hurt and must be rubbed with the utmost care. A scientific man should be obtained for the job—not any of these training camp rubbers, who do more to keep a man out of condition than anything else.

Ad did not work any yesterday. He spoke of today and tomorrow, will taper off with only some light exercises. Wednesday afternoon and evening he will attend the theater and try to get his mind off the coming battle.

He has gained two pounds since Sunday and weighed 129½ yesterday.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN AND MEN BY OLIVE GRAY

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The woman who does not care about her appearance is apt not to care about her manners, and in many instances she carries her indifference as to the impression made upon others to such an extent as to be offensive. Better be too particular about the beautification of the person.

It is always a pleasure to hear from my readers, in commendation or inquiry, and I invite criticism, as does any one who is honestly trying to benefit.

The following communication is interesting as a study in motives: "I always look over your column in The Times with interest, but I must protest against the Daily Beauty Hint, in which you constantly assume that the use of face powder and powders is universal among women, and the most important and omnipresent business of life. I should be honestly ashamed of our sex if it were true—which it most emphatically is not. There are thousands of women in Los Angeles and millions in the United States who never touch powder or paste to their faces and if you are not acquainted with them I'm sorry for you. But, anyway, you have sufficiently drilled the misguided persons who do use those things and I beg you to consider the shameful part of your readers and change the subject."

"A DISGUSTED READER."

Never under any circumstances do I share with any one the confidence of those who write to me, signing their names. I have never even shown such a letter to Elizabeth; but as this letter could not be considered confidential, being anonymous, I show it to my brother. He read it and then commented, in rather a heated tone: "I've seen that woman! I've seen her on the street. She is the one who wears her shoes down at the heel, and has a nose like a boat, and her teeth are black with yesterday's berries. She wears no corset and her form looks like a slab, or like a headless of molasses, which has sprung a stove. I know her! She prides herself upon being perfectly natural. Not only she presents herself in all the pimply hideousness of her 'natural' complexion and her 'natural' form, but she is quite as 'natural' in her talk and to her, being 'frank' consists in never saying anything agreeable, but in telling every one his faults. Oh, I know her—and I run when I see her coming—and so does everyone who knows her."

I was rather surprised to find him so emphatic. I had not thought of it in quite that way. It is true, it is true that when there are from ten to a dozen different subjects handled in the columns daily, with a view to giving something of interest to all, it was rather exclusive of this reader to speak so unreservedly from her own point of view. I have not heard a word of protest from anyone who does not care for cookery, because I, too, frequently give recipes; or word from anyone against too frequent mention of household appliances or helps; and, in fact, no protest from any who make it a point that their particular interest is not that which interests others. On the other hand, the thousands of letters received from women who are interested in the subject of making themselves presentable, as attractive as possible, leads me to believe that quite enough are interested in the subject to permit of my giving at least two inches of space to that subject, and if my "disgusted reader" will please allow a cut glass dish set lightly upon the Daily Beauty Hint, and to dwell more at length upon other themes, I will continue the wee bit of "boxed advice" for a while longer.

New Wedding Gift.
One of the exclusive jewelry houses is showing a new article in silver and glass, which is, I think, excellent as a wedding gift. It is a server for sandwiches and a condiment, or for crackers and cheese. There is a silver plate, in open-work design, and at the center is a cut glass dish set within a "gallery" or ornamental silver. The center dish has a cover of silver. The small cut glass dish is removed and the silver plate used simply as a cake plate if desired; but the novelty of the combination, is attractive.

There are several different styles, ranging from a few dollars a piece up to several tens.

Another Pretty Article.
A relief dish, another novelty shown by the same house. It is a handied tray of silver, in which rest a number of glass dishes, of various forms, yet combining to form a unity. Each of these compartment dishes is used to hold a different relish, such as olives, radishes, celery, etc.

New Setting.
In one of the high class tailoring houses I noticed a suit which was thought especially pretty for summer wear. It was in mannish weave, in shades of gray and tan, combined, and at intervals there were threads of pander, giving a cool, summery tone. For eastern travel, or for a northern trip, this would make a sensible and a stunning suit. The lavender could be brought out in the blouse and silk in the millinery, as well as in the slacks and petticoat.

For Him.
That sensible wife who never protests against allowing him to read the morning newspaper at the breakfast table, will be considered still more of a "good fellow" if she buys him for his birthday gift, one of the silver paper holders. They are upon a firm standard and have handy "handles" for holding the newspaper directly before his vision. Then, you see, he can use both hands for breakfast purposes, without disturbing the reading of the news. These stands are quite ornamental.

Outing "Walks."
A Broadway shoe house has a most attractive window filled with "Every-day" outing wear. When you realize that the most important article of comfort is, after all, the shoes, you can think that the shoe store is a most important business.

his plans. He asked, if it could be legally done, that the justice sentence common drunkards to work terms from thirty to 180 days, of servitude in the park. By keeping the men in the open air, working on the drives and trails through the park, feeding them properly and requiring them to keep reasonable hours at night, the Chief hopes to so build them up physically and mentally that they will conceive an ambition to break away from the liquor habit.

Justice Fredrickson, who said yesterday that it would be unlawful to sentence the men to work, but that when sent to jail they become wards of the Chief as executive head of the police department, and he can do with them as he sees fit. There is nothing in the law that would prohibit him from working the men as sentenced in cleaning up the park.

"I think the scheme of the Chief is a meritorious one," he said, "and I will do everything in my legal power to assist him. I am satisfied that many of the men who look about us can be redeemed if given an incentive."

The Park Board will be asked to reimburse the men for their services when a wife or family is left without means of livelihood. A per diem of not less than 50 cents will be asked for these men. The money will not be paid them but to those dependent upon them.

CUPID IS PROSPEROUS.
His Business Has Assumed Such Proportion That Larger Marriage License Bureau Office Is Necessary. The marriage industry has grown to such proportions in Los Angeles county that the County Clerk yesterday opened a special Marriage License Bureau in the rooms formerly occupied by the Board of Supervisors.

Leland said it is hardly fair to send prospect bride and groom to the same department where insane commitments are made out, even if they look about it, and that the old office was overcrowded.

R. E. Sparks, commonly called "Bob," who was in charge of the marriage licenses in the old office, is still in charge of the new office, and is assisting the County Clerk in the transfer from the registration department Miss Aileen McHenry.

PERSONALS.

E. C. Hayden of Boston, of the engineering concern which superintended the construction of the tunnel under the Colorado River at Yuma, and also consulting engineer on the work of boring the tunnel under the North River in New York. As his chief assistant, the County Clerk has transferred from the registration department Miss Aileen McHenry.

GIRLS DROPPING INTO PITFALLS.

ARTFUL TRICKSTERS SETTING TREACHEROUS TRAP.

Alluring and Artful Propositions Contain Snare, Which Unwary Maids Do Not Suspect, but Juvenile Court Officers Are on Trail of the Slave Traders.

A web more dangerous than that spun by the spider for its victims, which has engulfed scores of young girls in Los Angeles, has been discovered by Judge Wilbur of the Juvenile Court and the women juvenile and probation officers who are working out of his court. Behind this web are half a dozen women who are conducting a despicable traffic. These lure their intended victims into the mesh through tricks and devices that completely deceive them.

The name of one of the "slave dealers" is known, the haunts of two others have been discovered and within a short time several arrests and sensational disclosures are looked for. One of the women interested in the traffic is married and is declared to be amassing money through her dealings. One victim and one alleged victim have come forward and told their stories.

One of the women is the agent for a circle in San Diego where girls are shipped as soon as they can be induced to leave their homes. This woman operates boldly in the large hotels, cafes, restaurants and in places where she can get in contact with girls.

Mrs. Althea Gilbert, who has succeeded in securing a large number of girls through her Juvenile Court work, said yesterday that only the most determined prosecution can break up the rings of vicious traffickers operating in this city.

Misleading advertisements seem to be one of the commonest tricks resorted to by them. The advertisement is generally plainly worded, simply states that a housekeeper is wanted, and for applicants to call at the address given. When the applicant calls, if she is a young girl, she is immediately engaged and does not discover the real intentions of her employers until she has been in the house several days. The advertisements are written by women and a woman always approaches an applicant, thereby diverting suspicion.

One of these women has been working boldly on the streets and approaching girls standing on the corners waiting to board street cars for their homes. This woman has approached several young women and opened a conversation by saying:

"My dear, I am interested in you. I would like to become acquainted with you, as I may be able to help you in your work. I am a relative of a wealthy man in San Diego and he has a beautiful home. If you are neat housekeeper you can get a position earning for him. The salary will be ample and your duties will be light. Call at this address and talk to me about the matter."

Then the woman slips a piece of paper into the girl's hand containing a street address. This woman is a cleverly, well-dressed, and evidently possessed of a good education.

Now, is it not reasonable to assume that an infants' food that has been in general use for upwards of fifty years, and that has been used in preference to others, in most of the Royal Nurseries of Europe, is likely to prove a suitable diet for the average infant? Such a food is Savory & Moore's, and all mothers who decide in its favor may be congratulated on the wisdom of their choice.

Infants reared on Savory & Moore's Food are characterized by strong, sturdy limbs, firm flesh, plenty of bone and muscle, easy teething, freedom from infant ailments, and that happy disposition which is the surest sign of perfect health. Ask your Druggist to give you a tin.

Much useful information on the Feeding and Rearing of Infants will be found in Savory & Moore's booklet, "The Baby," a copy of which will be mailed free to all applicants by Savory & Moore, Ltd., Chemists to The King, New Bond Street, London, England.

What Food shall I give Baby?
Every mother must sooner or later ask herself this question, and it is one which must involve a good deal of anxious consideration. It may be that on the advice of friends various foods are tried to see if baby takes kindly to them.

Now, is it not reasonable to assume that an infants' food that has been in general use for upwards of fifty years, and that has been used in preference to others, in most of the Royal Nurseries of Europe, is likely to prove a suitable diet for the average infant? Such a food is Savory & Moore's, and all mothers who decide in its favor may be congratulated on the wisdom of their choice.

Infants reared on Savory & Moore's Food are characterized by strong, sturdy limbs, firm flesh, plenty of bone and muscle, easy teething, freedom from infant ailments, and that happy disposition which is the surest sign of perfect health. Ask your Druggist to give you a tin.

A Half Dozen Different Styles of Suit Cases and Not One Over $5

—This Bullock Traveling Accessory Store has made a specialty of low-priced suitcases. To the traveler who only occasionally goes on a journey, and then for only a short one, this class of suitcase always appeals. Bullock's believes in satisfying that customer just as much as the customer who purchases the finest leather case. The next time you need a case for a short trip, see how resultfully we have specialized.

—Here are suitcases of panama at 85c—full sized, with sturdy wooden frames and covered with very heavy panama. Another suitcase of panama at $2.50 is 8 inches deep and has a splendid lining.

—$4.50 buys a suitcase of genuine rattan, with steel frame, 7 1/4 inches deep, lined and finished with leather corners. Also at $4.50 may be had a suitcase of "Everwear" fibre—a case we warrant for one year—8 inches deep.

—At $3.00—another Panama case, has leatherette binding, straps all around and measures 8 inches in depth. There is also a pressed fiber case that is remarkable for $2.50—in black only, with straps all around and lined lining.

—Best value of all, however, is Bullock's $5.00 Special Suitcase of genuine cowhide. This has generous shirt fold, linen lining, sewed in frame and handles—and 1 1/4-inch straps. Incomparable for $5.00.

The Biggest Value in a Slatless Trunk at $11.45

—It has just come in, and a picture of it has been made especially for this advertisement. Note the splendid lines.

—the strength the trunk actually looks.

—Here in 34, 36 or 38-inch sizes, with excellent locks, extra dowels in front, strong valance straps, extra heavy straps, capital trimmings and full cloth lining—top and dress tray (as the picture shows).

—We never have had a slatless trunk to equal it—and every prospective traveler should see it, today—$11.45.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

RAILROAD MAN PASSES AWAY.

Noted Pasadena Was Former in State Development.

Formerly General Manager of Santa Fe System.

State May Purchase Crown City Water Bonds.

PASADENA, July 2.—Charles Warren Smith, a pioneer railroad builder in the West, and a man whose activities in railroading have made his name a familiar one from the Atlantic to the Pacific, died at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home, corner of Columbus street and South Main avenue. He had been sick but about a week with a stomach ailment. His wife, Mrs. Marcelline M. Smith, died here last January. Her body is still in a vault in the city and W. H. Smith, a son and the only member of the family left, will soon leave for Chicago with the two coffins. Interment will be made there.

Funeral services will be held at the residence at 3 o'clock tomorrow. Smith had many friends in Southern California. He was an uncle of former Vice-President Fairbanks, who was named for him, and his forty years of railroading brought him into close touch with many of the most prominent persons of the country.

He was born at Austerville, N. Y., September 5, 1851. He began his railroad career in 1865 in the East. Later he became general freight agent of the Central Pacific Railway Company, with headquarters at Sacramento. After taking a prominent part in the opening of California to the East, he returned East and became general manager of the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western Railroad. Later he held the office of traffic manager of Chicago Burlington and Quincy Railroad, traffic manager of the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and vice-president and general manager of the Ashland, Toledo and Eastern Railroad.

When he returned to California, in 1897, it was with the intention of retiring from active work. In February of 1898, however, he was prevailed upon to accept the office of general manager of the Los Angeles Railway Company, and in August, 1901, he became president of the Pasadena and Mt. Lowe Railway. The two last named roads in 1902, were merged into the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

Smith was a member of the Pasadena Board of Trade, and for many years the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. At the time of the Civil War he was a member of the Union League. He was a member of the St. Paul's Universal Church, in Chicago, and was a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason and an Odd Fellow. He had two daughters, but both died young, one after her marriage and the other when but a child.

STATE MAY TAKE BONDS.—The possible borrowing of money from the State to finance the proposed municipal water works is a new phase of the situation that is being looked into. City Attorney Carr is at present in Sacramento, where he went to confer with the State Finance Commission.

It may be that the State will take the bonds at a lower rate than the city could obtain. Mr. Carr has gone to Sacramento to see what can be done.

The Mayor closed last night, that nothing will be done until Carr's return.

At the meantime the water commission has begun the planning of improvements that will be made.

PREPARING FOR THE FOURTH.—Tournament Park has been put in shape and sports competition for the Fourth July celebration. The Komical Knights of the Carnival, which organization will have charge of the affair, has functioned a huge cannon firing over the grand stand at the park. It is so arranged that the spectators will be protected from the gun and will still be able to witness the fireworks at night.

Yesterday over a hundred members of the Komical Knights of the Carnival were appointed as special police officers for the Fourth.

LONG IN SERVICE.—The letter carrier service in Pasadena was established twenty-three years ago yesterday, and for the first time the original staff of five carriers still in the harness. They are A. L. Petrie, C. R. Dillman and Loyd A. Smith. The three oldest carriers have been in the habit of celebrating the anniversaries of their start at the work and yesterday's affair was one of the most enjoyable of the many that have been held.

RIDE ON HOSE WAGON.—The City Commissioners and members of the City Council yesterday went for a ride on the new hose combination chemical and hose wagon that Chief Clifford of the fire department took around to the City Hall, when it came time for the commission to convene. The apparatus is to be installed at the Mentor avenue station.

A large amount of routine business was disposed of at yesterday's meeting of the commission. A number of applications for positions in the fire department were received, as were reports from the chiefs of the police and fire departments. Park Superintendent Albright was authorized to paint the seats of the park.

HOME TAX PETITIONS.—During the next three days a petition to the State Legislature for the adoption of a law providing the home tax will be circulated in the city. The petition will be circulated under the direction of the Southern California Home Rule Taxation Association, with headquarters in Los Angeles.

CITY BRIEFS.—Miss Elizabeth McGaffey, visiting nurse of the city health department, filed her report for the month of June yesterday. She instructed two families in the city how to keep their homes in a cleaner condition.

The water bond election was verified by the City Council at a brief session yesterday morning.

The National Back-to-the-Land Association, which was organized here a short time ago, held a meeting at the rooms of the Board of Trade last night.

Those who are interested in the formation of a Municipal League in Pasadena met yesterday noon at the Chocolate Shop. The permanent organization will be formed at a mass meeting to be held soon.

Sunset Telephone Company Closes Its Office at Pomona and Gives Territory to Its Rival.

POMONA, July 1.—The Sunset Telephone Company, which the highest courts in the land ruled would have to take out a franchise in order to continue to do a local business here, has closed its office on Garey avenue and by an agreement now in effect has abandoned the local telephone business to the Pomona Home Telephone Company, which was organized here some years ago and is owned and controlled entirely by Pomona capital.

GIVE FOUNTAIN TO LONG BEACH.

SEASIDE CITY ACCEPTS GIFT FROM WOODMEN LODGE.

Located Near the Bandstand, Where the Thousands of Visitors May Alight Thirst With the Temperance Fluid—Sneak Thief Enters Home and Steals Diamonds.

LONG BEACH, July 1.—A handsome dark granite water fountain was taken to the beach today and will be set in place east of the pier and near the city bandstand for the benefit of the thousands of daily visitors who spend their outing on the sands.

The fountain is the gift of the Modern Woodmen Lodge, No. 1249, which recently notified the Council of its intention. The fountain is made in two pieces and weighs 7500 pounds. It cost the lodge $500. It is equipped with three ornate bubbling fountain devices which insure its sanitary qualities. On the front appears the name of the lodge and the insignia of the order.

Services dedicating it and presenting it to the city will be held Thursday afternoon during the Fourth of July festivities.

SNEAK THIEF.—A rooming-house thief entered the home of William J. Smith, 31 Chestnut avenue yesterday and secured about $200 worth of diamonds and jewelry. The theft was not reported until this morning. Entrance was gained by means of a duplicate key.

FLYING MACHINES.—Local airplane builders are increasing in number. This morning one of them, William Davis, trundled a home-built plane to the beach and spent the afternoon flying it. It is equipped with a three-cylinder engine and occasionally it would run and occasionally it would not. Davis failed to leave the ground. John Birnie, of Pasadena, who built a plane here two years ago, which met with disaster, is now building a machine here, which will be equipped with a Macomber engine and tried at the Dominguez field.

Attorneys interested in the liquor case of Druggist Foulke, whose license was revoked by Council last week, appeared before Judge Hart this morning and arranged for an appeal to the Superior Court. It is reported today that Thorpe and Foulke have disposed of their pharmacy to F. T. Kuenster, who will be able to secure the required permit of which the former owners were deprived.

Joseph Miller, who says he came from Austria eight years ago, and in that land had worked eight days for which he received $8, eight months ago, was arrested for vagrancy this morning and the police who have been sent to him, are hoping he will receive eight months' sentence in order that Miller's litigation with the mayor might be not broken.

W. H. Cluna, the theatrical man of Los Angeles has purchased the Windmere property on East Ocean avenue for $50,000 and it is said will tear down the apartment-house and erect a modern theater building. The site is 50x155 feet.

For the fiscal postoffice year which ended yesterday, receipts of the local postoffice were $72,999.93. Receipts in 1910-11 were $64,943.46, an increase of $8,056.47. During the month of June the receipts were $53,57.58.

The boat combine of "business arrangement" existing between owners of the larger launches playing on Long Beach, was broken yesterday. Capt. A. C. Malone, withdrawing the Nellie and Fashion from the pool going it alone.

A rate war is predicted to follow the revival of competition. The Home and Sunset telephone companies were given their present statements with the Council, to be used as data in fixing new telephone rates. The Sunset plant is valued at $250,000, and the Home plant at $352,000. The Sunset admits a net profit of $6680.72, while the Home figures are vague and indicate a loss, by reason of the bond interest included in the expense account.

Three small boys, who admitted to having stolen $50 from Mrs. J. B. Van Allen of Monrovia, were picked up at the bathhouse plunge this morning and were later turned over to Monrovia officers. Their names are Leonard Johnson, Lawrence Johnson and Ernest Reed.

Every comfort at Coronado Beach.

MONROVIA.—Monrovia, July 1.—The Monrovia Manufacturing Company, the largest of Monrovia's industries, is undergoing a change of management today. A. Goodale, founder and organizer, and Miss Lila Goodale have sold their interest in the concern to George C. Halay, who will assume the position held by Mr. Goodale as vice-president and general manager. Mark Newman, who has been the foreman, will occupy Miss Goodale's position as secretary; the other officers holding office as formerly until the annual meeting, July 5. Mr. Goodale is removing his family from Monrovia to Los Angeles, where he will engage in business this fall. Miss Lila Goodale will live almost immediately for Chicago and New York. The Monrovia Manufacturing Company supplies many of the largest furniture stores in Los Angeles and Pasadena, their mission furniture being of a very high class.

Every amusement at Coronado.

At a recent meeting held by the City Council, a resolution was passed to improve Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin streets to be graded and surfaced, gutters, curbs and sidewalks laid on both sides of such streets. A resolution was also passed to provide for the installation of a system of electric lights to illuminate the business section of town, preferably the conduit system, with ornamental posts to carry the lights.

The Rev. Robert Grieve, Mrs. J. A. Jones, Mrs. F. H. Nuebel, Mrs. H. R. Riser and Mrs. E. O. Kennard were appointed to serve on the Library board.

GLENDORA REALTY ACTIVE.

Remarkable Gain in Population and Taxable Wealth Is Shown Since the City Was Incorporated. GLENDORA, July 1.—Although it was only after a strenuous campaign that the town of Glendora was incorporated and became a city of the sixth class, October 31, last, the wisdom of the action taken has been amply demonstrated in the steady improvements made and the remarkable gain in wealth and population up to the present time.

The sales of business and residential lots and ranch property to investors and home-seekers within the city limits since then will easily exceed the $500,000 mark. With the announcement officially that the election for incorporation had carried, the city limits were extended to the two-story brick business block with frontage of seventy-five feet and a depth of seventy-five feet. This was followed by a short time afterwards by another contract, let by Frank Chance, for the erection of a two-story brick block with a street frontage of 100 feet and a depth of seventy-five feet. The block is situated on the boulevard, only to be followed by another contract let by C. A. Russo, for the erection of a two-story brick block, 100x100 feet. These fine structures are either completed and mostly occupied, or are almost completed. In the meantime a large number of cottages and residences ranging in price from $1000 to $10,000 have been built or gotten under way, with every prospect for a continued activity in the building trade during the summer season.

At present there is in course of construction a three-story bungalow packing-house, 105x165 feet, to cost $25,000, when completed and fully equipped, a nine-room residence for E. F. Walker, to cost $8000; a ten-room two-story residence for Mrs. Campbell, to cost $10,000; a two-story residence for G. H. Anderson, to cost $5500; R. B. Bidwell, nine-room residence, to cost $5000; Fred Monia, six-room residence, $2500; L. D. Miller, two-story residence, to cost $3500; Robert Hulet, nine-room two-story residence, to cost $7500; J. R. Martin, six-room cottage, to cost $1500; five-room bungalow, and Charles Doble, six-room cottage.

Contractors report that they have been compelled, owing to the rush of work, to employ outside help, and that from their knowledge of building plans, they fully expect to be kept busy with their force of mechanics all summer.

At a recent meeting held by the City Council, a resolution was passed to improve Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin streets to be graded and surfaced, gutters, curbs and sidewalks laid on both sides of such streets. A resolution was also passed to provide for the installation of a system of electric lights to illuminate the business section of town, preferably the conduit system, with ornamental posts to carry the lights.
